NASA'S DRAMATIC SMASH HIT OF SPACECRAFT INTO ASTEROID

The collision was intentional and designed to test whether space rocks that could threaten Earth can be intercepted

IMPACT EXPECTED TO ALTER ROCK'S ORBIT

The US space agency's Double Asteroid Redirection Test (DART) probe smashed into the asteroid moonlet Dimorphos, a small body 160 metres in diameter. DART's camera returned images right up to the moment of impact. Researchers expect the impact to shorten Dimorphos' orbit by about 1%. Dimorphos orbits a larger 780-metre asteroid called Didymos

SCIENTISTS TO KEEP TRACKING DIMORPHOS

- However, it will take some weeks before scientists on the Nasa mission know for sure whether their experiment has worked
- Post impact, which happened 11 million km away from Earth, the team will observe Dimorphos using ground-based telescopes to confirm its orbit around Didymos has indeed been altered

IN PRE-DAWN RAIDS, 70 PFI MEN TAKEN INTO CUSTODY IN K'TAKA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IN continuation with the massive crackdown against the Popular Front of India (PFI) last week, the Karnataka police early Tuesday morningtook 70 people into preventive custody from across the state. Informed sources told TNIE that those with past history of anti-social behaviour and those who had protested against the arrest of 15 PFI members leading to law-and-order problem last week, have been taken into preventive custody.

"The police after preparing the Preventive Action Report (PAR) of the detainees have produced them before the Tahsildar. They will have to submit third party sureties of good behaviour to the former for their release. Until such time, they will be held in preventive custody," said sources. "In some districts, sureties have been submitted to the Tahsildar, in others the procedure is underway," they added. Breach of sureties will lead to punitive action against those released on sureties.

The state police last week arrested 15 PFI cadres from 18 premises of PFI members in Bengaluru and Mangaluru cities, Dakshina Kannada district, Shivamogga, Koppala, Davanagere, Udupi, Mysuru and Kalaburagi under Sections 120B, 121, 121(a) and 153 (a) of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) for criminal conspiracy, waging war against the government of India, conspiracy to commit offences and promoting enmity between religious communities in the First Information Report (FIR) (328/22) registered against them at the KG Halli police station in Bengaluru East.

In Kalaburagi, police raided the residences of two PFI activists - Mazar Hussain and Isamuddin - residents of Iqbal Colony, and took them into custody. P4

No raids, only preventive measures, says CM

Bengaluru: Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday clarified that the police took preventive measures through the respective tahsildars by detaining the Popular Front of India (PFI) activists. "No raids were conducted on the PFI members. Based on inputs, police took certain preventive measures. Similar measures have been taken in other states too," he told reporters.

India joins elite club with cryogenic facility

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

PRESIDENT Droupadi Murmu on Tuesday inaugurated the Hindustan Aeronautical Limited's (HAL) highly-ambitious Integrated Cryogenic Engine Manufacturing Facility (ICMF), which will cater to the entire rocket manufacturing and assembly under one roof for the Indian Space Research Organisation. The facility seeks to boost self-reliance in manufacturing high-thrust rocket engines.

The President said the inauguration of the facility is a historic moment not only for HAL and ISRO, but for the entire country. "India is the sixth country in the world to have cryogenic engine manufacturing capabilities.", Murmu said.

Cong carrot and stick to resolve Rajasthan revolt

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

THE Congress leadership on Tuesday tried a carrot and stick approach to deal with Ashok Gehlot's refusal to hand over Rajasthan chief ministership to his detractor and former deputy Sachin Pilot.

While on the one hand senior party leaders engaged the chief minister and continued efforts to persuade him to resign and enter the race for the party president's post, on the other, the ground is being prepared for taking disciplinary action against Gehlot's closest ministers Shanti Dhariwal and Mahesh Joshi, who spearheaded the rebellion against signing a resolution authorising interim Congress president Sonia Gandhi to appoint a new chief minister after Gehlot's nomination as a presidential candidate.

Sources said senior leaders, including Ambika Soni, are still trying to convince Gehlot to take up party presidency after relinquishing the chief minister's post. He has been told that the party leadership is ready to put the ugly episodes of Jaipur behind and get on with the organisational elections. Party leaders at Delhi have not lost hope of Gehlot acceding to the high command's wishes. They did not rule out the possibility of Gehlot visiting Delhi to meet Sonia soon to resolve the differences.

Gehlot is not averse to giving up chief ministership and entering the presidential race. But he does not want Pilot as his successor. He says he would hand over the chief ministership to any one from the 102 MLAs who had stayed loyal to the party when Pilot had walked out, but not the latter.

While talks were still on with Gehlot, the party leadership decided to take disciplinary action against Rajasthan parliamentary affairs minister Dhariwal, who had called the MLAs to his residence and prevented them from meeting Congress general secretary in-charge of Rajasthan Ajay Maken and central observer Mallikarjun Kharge. Besides, a show-cause notice was issued against the party's chief whip in the state Mahesh Joshi who failed to make any effort to bring the MLAs together to meet the two central leaders.

Dhariwal had also accused Maken of trying to persuade MLAs to back Sachin Pilot. He said Maken had come with an agenda to install Pilot who was considered a "traitor" by a majority of party MLAs because of his earlier bid to form a government with the help of the BJP.

Man falls into open drain in B'luru, dies

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

GROSS negligence by civic authorities has claimed the life of a man who accidentally slipped and fell into a drain that was left open for more than three months. The deceased is Venkatesh K, 31, from Chitradurga. He was a tractor driver at a construction site in Nelagadaranahalli.

Venkatesh died after falling into the open drain while walking by the roadside in T Dasarahalli in Peenya around 11.30 pm on Sunday.

Passersby tried to rescue Venkatesh but in vain. The police, who have taken up a case against an assistant engineer and three other officials, said the slabs were removed to desilt the drain three months ago but the drain was not covered after the work was completed. "The residents of Rukmini Nagar and Vidyanagar had complained about the open drain and asked the BBMP to cover it or barricade it. But the BBMP officials did not bother to do it. We have checked CCTV footage of the incident which shows Venkatesh slipping into the drain," the police said. P3

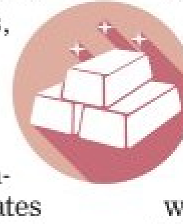
Add glitter to fests as gold price falls

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru



HERE'S some good news for the yellow metal lovers. In what can add glitter to Dasara and Diwali festivities, price of gold has been falling for the past five days. Trade analysts point out that federal banks in America are increasing their interest rates to fight inflation and people are investing more in dollars, which are the main reasons for the decline in gold price.

In Bengaluru, 10 grams of 22 carat gold was sold for Rs 46,550 on September 23 and on Tuesday the rate declined to Rs 45,850. Similarly, the price of 24 carat gold for 10 grams was Rs 50,780 on September 23 and on Tuesday it came down to Rs 50,020. The fall in gold price is unusual, as it normally goes up during Dasara and Diwali festivals every year.

Speaking to TNIE, Prof S R Keshva of Department of Economics, Bangalore University, said this is a business cycle where such trends are seen. Calling it a short-term phenomenon, he said this is the right time to invest in gold. "Once this period is over, gold price will start rising," he added. Price of gold in the international market has also fallen. "But the rate at which it has fallen is not reflected in the Indian gold market," he said.

T A Sharavana, President of Karnataka Jewellers Association, said the fall in the gold price will benefit both jewellers and buyers, as it is coinciding with two festivals which are round the corner.

INSTITUTES SHOULD AIM TO BE WORLD-CLASS, SAYS MURMU

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

President Droupadi Murmu in conversation with CM Basavaraj Bommai at the inauguration of St Joseph's University, which was given autonomous status recently, in Bengaluru on Tuesday. Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot looks on | VINOD KUMAR T

PRESIDENT Droupadi Murmu said the number of Indian institutions in international rankings must rise for India to become an educational superpower.

Speaking at the inauguration of the recently established St Joseph's University, she said universities must help train students in a multi-dimensional way, and respond to their aspirations. "Many Indian institutions have earned a place in international rankings, but their numbers are very small. It should be the aim of every Indian educational institution to become a world-class centre of learning. I am sure that if we take the right steps now, our country will emerge as a knowledge superpower," she said.

The 140-year-old St Joseph's University was upgraded under the Rashtriya Uchchatar Shiksha Abhiyan (RUSA) scheme, with President Murmu inaugurating the university on Tuesday. "The university has earned a good reputation by setting high academic standards and contributing significantly to its co-curricular activities. Education is the most important means for social transformation. Our universities have to play the role of change agents, it is the responsibility of educational institutions to train and equip students in such a way that they are prepared for the demands of the future. Students have to be made future-ready," the President said.

She said that universities must also accommodate students' aspirations, instead of pursuing methods of rote learning in education. "Today's younger population is very aspirational, and universities need to respond to their diverse aspirations. Education should be more about critical thinking over rote learning. There are many opportunities being given out in the world, but the skills needed are multi-dimensional, working and studying must also be multi-dimensional in nature," she said.

She also pointed out that the current movement of science and technology in India is vital for its national development, and to help ensure the well-being of people, especially those coming from the lower strata of society.

'HAL, ISRO reinforce our strategic defence'

LAUDING the role of HAL and ISRO, the President said, "HAL and ISRO together contribute to strategic defence and development. Both organisations have played a major role in the development of various equipment and programmes which have reinforced the security and development of our country. HAL with its high-end facility of manufacturing defence-related equipment has proved to be an invaluable asset for our country."

ISRO Chairman S Somanath said India can emerge as a superpower in rocket technology only with the help of HAL which has shown the ability to absorb complicated space technology with perfection.

Referring to Bengaluru as Space City, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said the state has contributed most of the space and defence related manufacturing activities to the country.

HAL, a Navratna defence PSU, stated that the commissioning of all the critical equipment for the manufacturing and assembly requirements is completed.

The pre-production activities which involve the preparation of the process plans, drawings and quality plan have also commenced.

HAL will start realising the modules by March 2023.

India successfully flew GSLV-D5 with a cryogenic engine made by ISRO through private industries on January 5, 2014.

In 2013, HAL and ISRO signed a memorandum of understanding for establishing the facility and it was subsequently amended in the year 2016 with an investment of Rs 208 crore towards setting up of the ICMF.

Meanwhile, President Murmu also virtually laid the foundation stone for the Zonal Institute of Virology (South Zone) of the National Institute of Virology (NIV) in Bengaluru.

Activists want Rajyotsava event at Chamarajpet Idgah

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

MEMBERS of the Chamarajpete Nagarikara Vakoota Samiti submitted a representation to the Kannada Sahitya Parishat chairman Mahesh Joshi on Tuesday seeking to use Chamarajpet Idgah Maidan for hoisting the Karnataka flag and organise an event on Kannada Rajyotsava on November 1.

Rame Gowda, the Samiti's president, said that the tricolour was hoisted at the Maidan, and now as Kannada Rajyotsava is approaching, the Samiti and like-minded outfits approached the Parishat to take the matter before the government.

"Revenue Minister R Ashoka told us hold events on Independence Day, Rajyotsava and Republic Day. We want to ensure his words are kept. We have approached the Kannada Sahitya Parishat chief Mahesh Joshi to urge him to talk to the CM so that Rajyotsava is held in a grand manner," said Gowda.

Joshi has asked us to get high court orders and Supreme Court interim order for studying to approach the government on the issue, he added. S Bhaskaran, president of Vishwa Sanathana Parishad, said they will join hands with the Samithi.

BBMP mulls 'Shankar model' to dull stay strategy

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

THE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike's demolition drive has taken a hit at a few places with owners moving court to obtain a stay order against action on their properties. This has prompted the Palike authorities to adopt 'Shankar model' after the former Urban Deputy Commissioner, during whose tenure the drive to remove encroachments on lakes and revenue lands was taken up on weekends to avoid court-ordered stay.

The erstwhile Siddaramaiah's government came under fire for rolling in bulldozers into posh Layouts. Since then, no such drive was undertaken until the flooding in the IT corridor of Mahadevapura. "Other works of the civic body are getting hampered, and so the drive will be done on weekends," said Basavaraj Kabade, chief engineer, Mahadevapura Zone. An official said, "By the time the owners get a stay order, more than 50% to 60% of the drive would have been completed."

Govt defends ward reservation

ENS @Bengaluru

DURING the hearing of a batch of petitions alleging that BBMP ward reservation is biased, the state government strongly defended the decision on Tuesday before the Karnataka High Court, saying that it has reserved 28 wards for SCs and four for STs based on the 2011 census.

The State Election Commission said that polls cannot be postponed indefinitely, and the government can be granted a week's time to redo the reservation, in case there are any discrepancies in providing reservation for women. Any flaws in fixing reservation for any other categories cannot be considered for the present poll, said a senior counsel, citing an apex court verdict which mandates the commission to conduct elections on time.

The petitioners alleged challenged the government notification over reservation for 243 wards. Government contended that reservation of wards for Backward Classes-A and B, and women have been done through randomization method, and reservations for SCs and STs in descending order of their population ward-wise based on 2011 census. Justice Hemant Chandangoudar adjourned the hearing till Wednesday.

PETER VIDAL

28TH September : Do you believe in flying saucers? The reason I ask is because the number of reported sightings has plummeted over recent years. There are two solutions to this problem. Either the aliens have lost interest in us, or they never really existed in the first place. Some say that we have less concern with the whole idea of visitors from outer space. It's an open question!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The general picture is looking somewhat emotional, but decidedly ambitious. It seems that most of your hopes may be vested in family members, but don't project expectations on to people who can never live up to them. You might think you're entitled to make demands on other people, but they're unlikely to agree.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
It is very definitely a day for a charming chat and good communication, although whether you will ever be able to make a final decision is debatable. Indeed, you may change your mind whenever you want, whatever partners say. They have to recognise that your needs and desires are not what they were.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Financial matters may be a cause of some concern, but whether you are due to make a sensible move or tip some money into a passing black hole is a rather sensitive point. I'd say that the former is more likely than the latter, just as long as you avoid impulsive promises.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
The Moon's relationship with your sign is broadly helpful, and you stand to win on two counts because of its role as your planetary ruler. If you're planning anything big on the emotional front, you can afford to be confident about the outcome.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
There is one more unexpected development down the road. If you have now worked out that you must make a complete break with old emotional chains, you are heading for a very pleasant surprise. Somebody is due to be deeply impressed by you indeed.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Mercury shifts nervously today, a crucial turn of events which means that one set of plans or ideas may soon be put on the back burner, perhaps until about three weeks' time. Impatience will be your biggest failing, but it is easily overcome if you stop and think.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
A mystery continues, and there is almost no chance of arriving at a solution soon. In a sense, it doesn't matter, for over the next few weeks you will have the chance to be recognised and praised for your very public actions. All credit is due to you for lending your support when it mattered.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Strong travel stars may be extended into dreams of life abroad. If you ever fancied spinning out your days on a tropical beach, now is the time to set the wheels in motion. Also, if you spot an argument on the horizon, familiarise yourself with your rights.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
All eyes are on that mischievous and unreliable planet Mercury, which after promising so much, is about to go back on its word. You'll just have to accept that you might have to change your mind, and that's not exactly something you're normally happy to do.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
If all goes according to plan, you'll receive support from friends and partners, but not in the ways that you expected. You may be offered some rather tricky advice and your first inclination could be to reject it. However, you may feel differently once you've received the relevant reassurance.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Many are the times that you have been misjudged and underestimated. When it comes to the crunch you really are more responsible at work than people often realise. For example, at the moment you are concerned about a partner's position, and your feelings will show in your actions.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Relax and enjoy yourself, and don't worry too much if responsibilities are building up. You've been through enough in the past and now should be due for some time-off. And, if you want to bury your head in the sand, why not? After all, everybody needs a break.

BCom student, friend kidnap IT firm MD's son

Take Rs 15 lakh ransom, buy sports bike

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A 23-year-old second year BCom student and his associate have been arrested by the Sampigehalli police for allegedly kidnapping a 14-year-old boy, son of a managing director of an IT firm.

The boy was kidnapped from his residence in Manyata Residency in his father's SUV on September 2. After reaching Dobbaspet, the kidnappers called the boy's father and demanded a ransom of Rs 15 lakh.

The boy's father paid the ransom to the accused and got his son released. The kidnappers, however, had taken away the SUV. The police arrested the two accused — M Sunil Kumar, a BCom student, and a resident of Gudibande in Chikkaballapura and YV Nagesh, 22, of Mandikal in Chikkaballapura, on September 20. The accused had purchased a sports bike and a camera from the ransom. The police have also recovered Rs 9.69 lakh from the Rs 15 lakh ransom and also the SUV.

Kumar, an evening college student, had to pay a fee of Rs 40,000 which he did not have. He was also working as a gardener on part time basis. Seven months ago, he had come to the complainant's house to prune the lawn.

Kumar found out that the complainant is an affluent person and decided to kidnap one of his children to arrange money to pay college fees. e then camped with Nagesh who was also in need of money and kidnapped the boy.

The main accused knew that there was access to the boy's room from the basement. "The accused had used the victim's phone to make the ransom call. The main accused was identified since he had done the lawn work. Both the accused have been remanded in judicial custody," said the police.

Four women held, drugs worth Rs 7.80 crore seized

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Central Crime Branch (CCB) police have arrested four women from Andhra Pradesh in connection with the disc jockey (DJ) drug peddling case and seized contraband worth Rs 7.80 crore from them. A foreign national, who had been receiving drugs from them, was also arrested.

Police said the Viveknagar police has registered a case wherein a DJ was arrested on June 23 on charges of drug peddling. During investigation, the police arrested four people, including two women, in July. Based on information shared by them, the police arrested the four women and a foreign national.

"The gang used to prepare hashish oil in the forests of Araku valley and Senthipalli in Visakhapatnam, Andhra Pradesh. The four women were arrested when they were about to hand over the contraband to drug peddlers from Bengaluru near the Puttaparthi railway station. The foreign national, who was receiving drugs from them, was arrested from his house in Bengaluru," the police said.

The police seized 8 kg of hashish oil, 10 kg of ganja and 1 kg of MDMA crystals from the accused.

Man kills wife, arrested

Bengaluru: A 40-year-old woman was killed by her husband at their house in Begur near Kothanuru in the wee hours of Tuesday. The deceased, Sangeeta, a resident of Chowdeshwarinagar, was a tailor. Her husband Manu, a daily wage labourer, has been arrested. Police said the couple had a quarrel, and in a fit of rage, Manu hit Sangeeta repeatedly and then strangulated her with a rope. The parents of the victim told the police that Manu was an alcoholic and used to fight with Sangeeta often over trivial issues. ENS

HOSPITAL RELEASES BODY AFTER 5 DAYS

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

ALLEGED delay in releasing the body of a 57-year-old male from a city-based private hospital in Byatarayanapura, since the family was unable to clear the bill demanded, sparked a protest by relatives on Tuesday morning.

Following the intervention of Health Commissioner D Randeep and other officials, the hospital released the body on Tuesday evening, after offering a concession in the bill.

The deceased, Sridhar S, a car driver and resident of Basaveshwaranagar in Kanakapura, is survived by his wife Prema and 23-year-old son, a student, and a 10-year-old daughter.

Sridhar's wife Prema told TNIE, "My husband was admitted with a complaint of stomachache and tiredness on September 13. He was diagnosed with a liver issue. My husband died last Thursday at noon. We had paid the bill of Rs 6.87 lakh, but since we were unable to clear Rs 3.5 lakh more, they did not allow us to see him or release his body. After we protested on Tuesday morning, health department officials intervened and finally, hospital authorities agreed to take Rs 1.25 lakh and released the body by evening."

Sridhar's relative Mahendra said, "The family feels Sridhar died on Thursday as hospital authorities did not allow them to see him since then. But, they only officially declared him dead on Monday evening. By that time, they had already cleared Rs 6.87 lakh. Probably they delayed his death announcement, only to ensure the family cleared the bills," he said.

Health officials who visited the hospital told TNIE, "We are taking up a detailed investigation of the case, and inspection of the hospital's functioning," an official said.

K'taka bags awards for healthcare, digitisation of patient records

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA was felicitated with healthcare awards for the Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (PMJAY) and Ayushman Bharat Digital Mission (ABDM) at the Aarogya Manthan 2022 in New Delhi on Monday.

Bengaluru's KC General Hospital was awarded the Ayushman Utkrishtata Puraskaar by the National Health Authority for being the top government facility in the country for digitisation of the highest number of patient records (PHR) linked to Ayushman Bharat Health Account (ABHA).

Karnataka was ranked second in the country to have linked 1,68,254 health records after Andhra Pradesh. The state also ranked second in the number of healthcare facilities added to the National Health Register, with 23,838 new facilities after Uttar Pradesh. The Dharwad district hospital won the award for top performing government facility in the country.

Health and Family Welfare Commissioner Randeep D tweeted that he was honoured to be receiving five awards for the state under the ABDM. He stated that Karnataka ranked in the top three for highest personal health record linkages pan-India. The state was also the top performer for maximum saturation in public healthcare facilities.

Union Health Minister Dr Mansukh Mandaviya said, "There should be no space for fraud in AB-PMJAY, which aims for healthcare of the poorest in society. We need to use all available technology tools to remove even the smallest scope for any fraud."

Cops grill main accused in minor girl alcohol case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Kothanur police on Tuesday questioned the prime accused after taking him into custody for allegedly forcing a minor girl to consume alcohol.

The police said an ex-army personnel had filed a case against seven, including his wife, alleging that they had forced his 7-year-old daughter to drink beer. An NCR was filed on Monday and based on the complaint, an investigation has begun to file FIR against the accused.

During the interrogation, the accused said the family had gone to Goa for a trip where they had a party and consumed alcohol. They had taken a selfie in a group and the minor girl was also seen in the photo. The accused claimed that the girl was holding a glass of juice during the party and his father, who has a dispute with his wife, falsely made the allegations.

"We have also taken the statement of the girl. Since the incident took place in Goa we may transfer the case to the police there," an officer said.

The complainant, who lives in Chennai, had separated from his wife.

The state government will hold talks with agitating farmers demanding minimum support price, cancellation of GST on farm produce, waiver of farmer loans and other issues within a week

Araga: PFI, SDPI members held for creating trouble during raids

Govt directed to produce PFI activists before taluk magistrates

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Shivamogga

PFI and SDPI members were arrested on Tuesday for allegedly obstructing the NIA and police during raids on various leaders of their outfits in different parts of the state recently, said Home Minister Araga Jnanendra at Thirthahalli on Tuesday.

He said the state government has been directed to arrest these PFI activists and produce them before the taluk magistrate.

These leaders and some activists were arrested as a precautionary measure and they were produced before tahsildars, he added.

The PFI and SDPI activists created anxious moments by staging protest when NIA and police teams went to arrest suspected terrorists. The arrests have been carried out to maintain peace, he added.

CENTRE MAY SOON BAN PFI, CLAIMS BSY

Meanwhile, former chief minister B S Yediyurappa claimed on Tuesday that the Union Government is marching towards banning the Popular Front of India (PFI) in the country.

Talking to mediapersons here, Yediyurappa said that the PFI is engaged in anti-national activities. "This organisation should have been banned much earlier. It will be the right decision to ban it now," he said. "The police have raided more than 40 locations across Karnataka and have taken many leaders into custody for interrogation. The Centre will take strong action against the PFI," he added.

"Once a thorough investigation is carried out against the organisation, it will reveal the PFI's conspiracy against the Central Government," he said.

Meanwhile, Yediyurappa attributed Congress' loss of power to the "several scams that took place during the Siddaramaiah government". The Congress should first answer about the scam related to the appointment of teachers, he urged. He claimed that former speaker KR Ramesh Kumar had said Congress leaders have amassed wealth for the next three generations. "Neither Siddaramaiah nor Sonia Gandhi or Rahul Gandhi have denied this allegation. The Congress engaged in corruption and looted the treasury during its rule of about five decades. This has forced many Congress leaders to sit at home," he alleged.

Provide details on raids: HDK to govt

BENGALURU: Former CM HD Kumaraswamy on Tuesday urged the State Government to present before people all details related to raids on the PFI members. "If the government fails to tell the truth and give all details, it will be construed as an attempt to divert attention from many serious allegations," Kumaraswamy said. The JDS leader said the government is facing many allegations. " I had spoken in the Assembly about irregularities in BMS Education Trust. People are fed up with many irregularities and if the government fails to give details about the raids on PFI, it will be seen as an attempt to divert attention," he thundered. The NIA had conducted raids in Karnataka and other states a few days back and arrested some PFI activists, and again state police have conducted raids at several places, he said.

PFI men detained from Bidar, Belagavi, V'pura

IN Bidar, the PFI district unit president Abdul Karim and district unit secretary of SDPI Sheikh Maqsood were taken into custody by the police on Tuesday morning. In Yadgir district, PFI activists - Mohammad Haseem Patel and Bandenawaz - residents of Gogi village of Shahapur taluk, were taken into custody for "delivering provocative speech after the arrest of PFI/SDPI leaders last week," said senior police officers. "They were detained by the police because there were chances that they may deliver provocative speeches again leading to law-and-order problem," said some senior police officers.

In Belagavi, police raided the offices and houses of PFI and Social Democratic Party of India (SDPI) members around 4 am, and detained seven persons - Zakiulla Farooque Faizi, Salauddin Babusab Khillewale, Abhidkhan Gouskhan Kadoly, Badruddin Hasamsab Patel, Samiulla Abdulmajid Peerajade, Jaheer Goshamodin Gheewale and Rehan Abdul Azeez Shayannavar under the supervision of Deputy Commissioner of Police (DCP) Ravindra Gadadi.

Meanwhile, according to police sources, the house of one of the PFI leaders - Naveed Kadagi - was also raided at Angol. But he was found to be absconding. Police are searching for him.

It may be recalled that last week, PFI activists had blocked the Pune-Bengaluru highway for about 30 minutes near Kakati in Belagavi to protest against the NIA/ED raids on the houses of PFI and SDPI leaders. Police had rushed to the spot and asked the protesters to withdraw their agitation immediately. This had led to a verbal clash between the police and the agitators which created tension.

In Bagalkot and Vijayapura districts, eight persons - seven from Bagalkot and one person from Vijayapura affiliated to PFI - were detained. In Bagalkot, four persons - one each from Ilkal, Mahalingapura and Banahatti taluka were detained from Jamkhand. The district president of PFI in Vijayapura is among the detained.

The police have produced all the arrested in the respective taluk courts. Speaking to TNIE, SP of Vijayapura, HD Ananda Kumar, said that the main reason behind the detention is that they were threatening peace and tranquility in the region. "They had indulged in anti-national activities and had provoked people against the Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA) and National Register of Citizens (NRC), 2019," said the officer.

In Shivamogga and Bhadravathi, the police detained five PFI workers.

In Dakshina Kannada (DK) and Udupi, 19 persons with alleged links with PFI were detained by the police. In Mangaluru city, 11 PFI activists, and four each from Udupi and DK district police were detained. Mangaluru City Police Commissioner N Shashi Kumar said that 11 persons were detained from different police station limits and were booked under CRPC 107 and 151 on the pretext that they may threaten law and order situation. The detainees include Abdul Jaleel K, Mahammad Sharief, Muzair Kudroli, Mohammed Naufal Hamza, Shabeer Ahammad, Nawaz Ullal, Mohammed Iqbal, Davood Nowshad, Nazeer, Ismail Engineer and Ibrahim. "Since Jaleel has a health issue, he has been admitted to a private hospital. The DK SP Rishikesh Sonawane gave the names of the detained as Raziq, Feroz, Eijaz Ahmed and Jabir Ariyadka.

In Hassan, police detained district president and general secretary of SDPI Siddique Anemahal and Syed Fareed as a precautionary measure, said SP Hariram Shankar.

In Kodagu, Kushalnagar police detained a PFI activist in Suntikoppa - Harris (37), a native of Tannirhalla in Somwarpet taluk over several pending cases against the accused.

Jogati, Padukone honour Murmu at civic reception

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

PERSONALITIES from across sectors and regions were picked to honour President Droupadi Murmu during a civic reception at Vidhana Soudha on Tuesday.

Madhu Pandit Dasa from ISKCON (social service), Jnanpith awardee Chandrashekhara Kambara (literature), badminton player Prakash Padukone, Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw (industries) and transgender actress and Padma Shri award winner Jogati Manjamma (folk) felicitated Murmu. Each dignitary presented Murmu with art works representing the state, like carved sandalwood elephant, bidri work peacock and more.

The house of power was illuminated to welcome the First Citizen, while the banquet hall was packed with dignitaries, including Padma award winners, to witness the event.

It is Murmu's first visit as President to Karnataka, which is her first port of call after assuming the top post. At the beginning of her speech, she spoke a few words in Kannada, saying, "Thaayi Bhuvaneshwari makkalige namaskaaragalu" (I salute to the children of Goddess Bhuvaneshwari). I felt the love and affection of children and adults on my way. All I can say is I am yours, at your service."

She recalled the contribution of Rani Channamma, Rani Abbakka, Sangolli Rayanna, Pampa, Ranna, Bhimsen Joshi, Akka Mahadevi, Purandara Dasa, Kanaka Dasa, Allama Prabhu, Sir M Visvesvaraya, Kempegowda and CV Raman. She recited Adikavi Pampa's Manava jaathi onde valam (entire humanity is one) and Basavanna's ivanaarava, ivanaarava, ivanaarava endenisadirayya, iva nammava, iva Nammava , iva nammava endenisayya (Don't say who is he, but he is ours). The recitals drew a big applause from the audience.

Murmu also referred to the architecture of Hampi, Aihole, Pattadakal and Belur and hailed Cauvery, Krishna, Tunga and other rivers flowing through the state. She spoke about Karnataka's contribution to Independence, including Shivapura flag protest.

Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot, Union minister Shobha Karandlaje, Speaker Vishveshwara Hegde Kageri and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai were present.

Karnataka hitches star to coastal travel bandwagon

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

BEACH tourism is set to get a boost in Karnataka, with the Coastal Zonal Management Plan (CZMP) and modified Coastal Regulation Zone (CRZ) rules getting the stamp of the Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change.

The tourism department is now working to make the most of the modifications in coastal zone guidelines, which allow temporary structures like shacks to come up along the coast. These were earlier not permitted, and are bound to give Goa and Kerala some tough competition.

The regulations clearly define the conservation areas, list out vulnerable sections in special categories, besides area-wise development zones, like CRZ of 50 metres between land and high tide line. They also permit undertaking of repairs and tourism. "It helps in conservation and also gives flexibility," environment department officials said. Karnataka is the first state in South India and the second in India, after Odisha, to have a CZMP approved by the central government, a senior environment department official told The New Indian Express. Goa and Kerala still do not have a CZMP.

"We had earlier drafted the coastal tourism plan on the lines of Kerala and Goa, but now we'll be miles ahead as the environment department has a clear plan. We have also approached the department to approve our notification," said a senior tourism official.

The tourism department, which has decided to extend its tourism policy by a year, from 2020-2025 to 2026, to make up for the pandemic losses, has included these modifications to boost coastal tourism.

The department will release its revised tourism policy on September 28, a day after Tourism Day on September 27, with the theme 'Rethinking Tourism', and focuses on subsidy schemes for setting up tourism infrastructure.

MUST-SEE SPOTS

The policy also lists 30 focus destinations for Karnataka, and includes

- Bagalkote: Aihole, Badami, Pattadakallu, Kudalasangama
- B'luru Rural: Dabaspete, Doddaballapur
- Chikkaballapur: Gowribidanur, Muddenahalli, Nandi Hills
- Chitradurga
- Kolar: Avani, Kolar Gold Fields
- Koppal: Anegundi, Itagi, Munirabad
- Mandya: Adichunchungiri, Kokkrebellur, Melkote, Srirangapatna, Shivanasamudra
- Mysuru: Byalakuppe, Nanjangud, Somanathapura

Businesses with ₹10cr turnover will now get e-bill benefit

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

A businessman with an aggregate turnover of Rs 10 crore can now benefit from electronic billing, or what is called e-invoicing, when the new system kicks in from October 1. Earlier, the aggregate turnover had to be a minimum of Rs 20 crore, but now businesses with smaller volumes can also benefit.

The move will help in greater transparency, and is expected to ensure better compliance, Commercial Tax Commissioner C Shikha said. Asked if it would cause any slackening in collection, she said, "On the contrary, it will help in better collection since the process is more transparent." Federation of Karnataka Chamber of Commerce and Industry's GST Committee chairman B T Manohar told TNIE, "E-invoicing is a step in the right direction. It will help curtail fake invoicing and evasion of taxes, and support the seamless flow of input tax credit. We have conducted several rounds of workshops with the help of CGST and SGST departments, which are supported through webinars conducted by NIC Karnataka." The turnover qualification of Rs 10 crore used to be Rs 500 crore two years ago, and was brought down to Rs 100 crore, then to Rs 50 crore and thereafter to Rs 20 crore, in stages, Manohar said.

"This e-invoicing is for B2B transactions and is expected to make evasion that much more difficult. The sum total of GST collected for the month of September will not help, but will ensure higher compliance and collection in the month of October," sources explained.

LINGAYAT, OBC SEERS ATTACK CONG FOR 'PAYCM'

Tumakuru: A group of 30 religious heads, led by Veerashaiva-Lingayat community's Rudramuni Swami of Shadakshara Mutt in Tiptur, here on Tuesday came down heavily against opposition Congress for sullying the image of CM Basavaraj Bommai through its 'PayCM' campaign. The seer from the same community that Bommai belongs to said that the campaign is creating anarchy in the state by denting not just the image of Bommai, but also of Karnataka. "Bommai has been administering the state well without any expectation. If there is evidence of 40 per cent commission being paid for civic works, let those making baseless allegations file a complaint with the Lokayukta," said the Swami, at a press conference.

Siddu looted state's resources: Kateel

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Vijayapura

INTENSIFYING his verbal attack on Siddaramaiah, BJP state president Nalinkumar Kateel on Tuesday claimed, "It was during his tenure as CM that over 3,000 farmers committed suicide, around 24 Hindu activists died and several top-level officials too ended their lives."

Addressing a booth-level party workers' convention of Nagthan Assembly segment, Kateel said, "CLP leader Siddaramaiah gave a lot of money to the All-India Congress Committee interim president Sonia Gandhi to become chief minister of Karnataka in 2013." This allegation is seen as a response to the 'PayCM' campaign launched by the Congress against Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, whose government is accused of taking 40 per cent commission from contractors. "The Congress has launched the PayCM campaign, but we all know that Siddaramaiah became CM only after paying a huge amount of money to Sonia. Siddarmaiah looted resources from the state and made huge amount of money out of that and paid the Gandhi family during his tenure in the state," Kateel claimed.

His jibes against Congress baseless: Siddaramaiah

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bagalkot

VENTING his angst against BJP state president Nalinkumar Kateel, CLP Leader Siddaramaiah said, "Kateel is a person who lacks maturity."

Siddaramaiah, who was in Jamkhandi, said, "Kateel has made baseless allegations against Congress. When we were in power, BJP was in opposition and it did not make a single corruption allegation against my government."

"I have said on the floor of the House that all alleged irregularities reported in the last 16 years, including during my government, must be probed. I do not have any fear against any probe. I demand the government to launch a probe soon."

"I also demanded the government to conduct a judicial inquiry on the irregularities in the recent session, but it did not respond. When our party launched a campaign against the ruling party, they have made baseless claims against my government," fumed Siddaramaiah.

Safe Dasara: Mysuru Police use fingerprint scans to pick criminals from crowd

KARTHIK K K @ Mysuru

THE Mysuru city police are going the extra mile towards ensuring a safe and hassle-free Dasara this year. With the grand event expected to see huge tourist footfalls from across the globe, it is imperative that the law enforcement authorities keep an eye out for anyone with criminal antecedents, who could target the City of Palaces.

To keep a tab on such elements, the police have stepped up surveillance, besides effectively using fingerprint-scanning devices which have come as a 'smart' solution for identifying suspicious people roaming around the city.

Usually, the police would find it difficult to trace someone roaming suspiciously on the streets of Mysuru, as they had to quiz many suspects to get details, besides surfing through criminal records.

However, now with the Mobile-Crime and Criminal Tracking Network System (M-CCTNS), which has the database of criminals, police can record the fingerprints of any suspicious person lurking around and find out if he\she has any criminal record.

The system will alert officials with any past history, case number, nature of crime, and the jurisdictional police station where the offense had taken place.

Cops use the fingerprint scanner system in Mysuru on Tuesday | UDAYSHANKAR S

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Mysuru City Police Commissioner Dr Chandragupta said the device has been used in all police stations, especially for the night beats to verify the background of suspicious people roaming on Mysuru's streets.

"In the past one year, over 5,920 suspicious persons have been scanned, of whom fingerprints of 160 have matched. As part of the surveillance during Dasara, we are using these devices effectively to keep a strict vigil on criminals who could come to the city," he said.

The commissioner further said that in addition to using these devices, police personnel from the crime units of various other districts are also roped in to identify such criminals and gangs which would take advantage of a situation.

A total of more than 45,700 community forest rights letters have been distributed, the area of which is more than 49,57,443 acre.

Thus, the individual and community forest rights have a total of more than 58,66,435 acre of land that has been distributed.

More than 3,615 Community Forest Resource Rights have been disbursed in the Gram Sabhas in the last year for which, the area is more than 36,59,347 hectare.

Tending to Tendu Patta

The tendu patta collection rate in Chhattisgarh is ₹4,000 per standard bag. For the year 2022, 17.32 lakh standard bags of tendu leaves have been procured for which ₹700 crore have been disbursed to collectors of tendu leaves.

The leaves of tendu (Diospyros melanoxylon) are used for making bidis (thin cigarettes). It is also called as green gold in tribal areas because tendu leaves are the biggest source of income for a large population dependent on forest produce collection.

According to the data of The Tribal Cooperative Marketing Development Federation of India, 75 lakh people across the country get employment for about three months through the collection of tendu leaves. Apart from this, around 30 lakh people earn their livelihood by making bidis from these leaves.

Before 1964, the market of tendu patta was open across the country. The Forest Department used to auction the right to collect leaves to any individual, group, or contractor. But in 1964, the undivided Madhya Pradesh nationalised the business of tendu leaves after repeated complaints of contractors paying less money for collecting tendu leaves and taking more work from the collectors.

This move was followed by Maharashtra doing the same in 1969, Andhra Pradesh in 1971, Odisha in 1973, Gujarat in 1979, Rajasthan in 1974 and Chhattisgarh in 2000, after it became a separate state from Madhya Pradesh.

Under this arrangement, the Forest Department of the state gets the tendu leaves collected by the locals and then sells it to the traders. The department also issues permission to carry tendu leaves from one place to another.

In 1984, the state government formed the State Minor Forest Produce Association to conduct the business of tendu leaves through cooperatives.

In Chhattisgarh, the state government has been getting tendu leaves collected from about 13.76 lakh families every year. This collection work is done by the Chhattisgarh State Minor Forest Produce (Trade and Development) Co-operative Federation of the Forest Department. There are 31 district unions and 901 primary forest produce cooperative societies of this union in the state. There are more than 10,300 collection centres or phads across the state, where tendu leaves are collected from the local collectors.

When Chhattisgarh became a separate state in 2000, a standard sack of tendu patta earned the collector ₹00. A standard bag means 1,000 bundles of leaves in a sack and each bundle contains 50 leaves. Till 2018, ₹1,800 was given per sack of tendu patta. But Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel raised it to ₹4,000 in 2018.

TIMBER IS TREASURE

At present, timber worth ₹5,000 crore is imported every year in to the country. Ideal conditions such as adequate land, favourable climate and labour force are available for planting timber, non-timber and other species of trees in the state of Chhattisgarh. In the near future, the state can play an important role in the industrial production and export of timber.

Through the Mukhyamantri Vriksharopan Protsaahan Yojana, applicable from June 1, 2021, Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel has done wonders for the state of timber in the state. The scheme hopes to promote the commercial/industrial plantation of timber and non-timber species on private sector farmland, government departments and village panchayats. It hopes to reduce the adverse effects of climate change by improving the environment and boosting the income of farmers. It also keeps the forests safe by reducing the biotic pressure on wood available in the forests and reducing ground water level depletion.

All citizens of Chhattisgarh along with gram panchayats and Joint Forest Management Committees are eligible for the scheme, as per the availability of private land.

The scheme provides that timber, non-timber fruit-bearing plants, bamboo, other minor forest produce and medicinal plants will be planted on a large-scale in non-forest areas and agro forestry will be encouraged and on the forest/revenue land on which forest rights have been given, and agro-forestry will be encouraged as well. The scheme also provides commercial plantation to be done by the gram panchayat in community and non-forest areas using the amount available with the gram panchayats, It also simplifies the rules of tree felling on private land, promoting tree plantation on private and community lands and gradually reducing the imports.

In case of the successful plantation after one year, the gram panchayats concerned will be given an incentive at the rate of ₹10,000 per acre from the government. If the farmers who have taken paddy crop in kharif year 2020, plant trees in their fields instead of paddy crop, then they will be given an incentive at the rate of ₹10,000 per acre per year for the next three years. Plantation by the Joint Forest Management Committee will be done in the non-forest areas. Schemes such as Hariyali Prasar Yojana and the Chief Minister's Bamboo Development Scheme will be further strengthened and new such schemes will also be started.

If tree plantation is done on the revenue land on a commercial basis from the amount available with Joint Forest Management Committees, then like the panchayats, the committee will be given an incentive at the rate of ₹10,000 per acre after one year. The right to cut and sell the trees will be with the committee concerned.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN

- With the increase in the green estate area in the state, the environment will be benefited.
- Under the scheme, 66,413 trees have been planted on 956 acre of land by 442 forest rights holders. Similarly, 71,679 trees have been planted on 910 acre by 434 gram Panchayats and 97,612 trees have been planted on 380 acre by 111 forest management committees.
- If 80 per cent of the planted saplings are found alive, after inspection of the plantation of last year in the month of April then this plantation will be considered successful and ₹10, 000 incentive amount per acre will be paid through Direct Benefit Transfers by the Forest Divisional Officer. Through this, the payment will be made in the account of the Joint Forest Management Committee concerned. The incentive amount will be paid from the budget item fixed by the government.
- Direct benefit transfer will increase.
- The means of livelihood will increase through this scheme. With the increase in the green estate area in the state, the environment will be benefited.
- Under the scheme, 66,413 trees have been planted on 956 acres of land by 442 forest rights holders. Similarly, 71,679 trees have been planted on 910 acre by 434 gram panchayats and 97,612 trees have been planted on 380 acres by 111 forest management committees.

No Longer Minor

Chhattisgarh ranks first in the procurement of minor forest produce (MFP) at the minimum support price in the country. The minimum support price, per kg, for the mahua flower is ₹33, for imli is ₹36, for chironji is ₹126, for rangeeni lac is ₹220, for kusumi lac is ₹300, and for honey is ₹225. The items in the list of Minor Forest Produce (MFP) procured at support price has been hiked from 7 to 65. MFP worth ₹158.65 crore has been procured through women SHGs in the year 2020-21 while it was ₹120 crore in the year 2021-22 till January 2022.

There are 121 kinds of herbal products being manufactured under the registered brand name of Chhattisgarh Herbals in 139 Van Dhan Vikas Kendras of the state. Lac rearing has got the status of agriculture practice and a decision has been taken to provide a zero-interest loan facility for the same. Nearly, 50,000 farmer families will get employment in the first phase.

For the first time the state government has bought MFP worth ₹\16.60 crore comprising 54,719 quintal of Kodo, Kutki, Ragi. This forest produce has been purchased from 11,839 farmers on MSP through primary forest committees. Industries at a cost of ₹5.34 crore are being established in the state for the processing of Kodo, Kutki, Ragi. For the first time in the state, facilities have been arranged for the purchase of bhura amchur at ₹8,000 per quintal and white amchur at ₹12,000 per quintal.

Conduct workshops, educate officials on Air, Water Act, KSPCB told

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has directed the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) to conduct workshops to educate and train its officials with the assistance of the Environment Law Centre and National Law School of India University on initiating criminal proceedings under the Air and Water Act.

The court also directed the KSPCB chairman to place on record the topics covered along with the material distributed in the workshops within three months.

Justice Suraj Govindaraj passed the order while allowing the petition filed by BV Byre Gowda, proprietor of Chennakeshava Stone Crushers at Beera Halli village of Hosakote taluk, challenging the validity of the criminal proceedings against him pending before the Magistrate. The proceedings were based on the complaint filed by Deputy Environment Officer (DEO) of KSPCB under the provisions of the Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act.

Though the court quashed the proceedings as well as the cognizance of the offences taken by the Magistrate in 2015 due to procedural lapses, as the complaint was filed by the DEO without prior approval of the chairman, it reserved liberty for the board to initiate fresh proceedings by following applicable law.

Considering that the certification of the complaint made by the DEO of KSPCB, is contrary to law, the court directed the chairman to initiate action against the DEO and other officials who are responsible for filing such a defective complaint.

AMID RAJ CRISIS, SONIA SUMMONS ANTONY

CYNTHIA CHANDRAN @T'Puram

BOGGED down by the ongoing drama in Rajasthan and the uncertainty over the party's official candidate for the presidential poll, the Congress high command summoned veteran leader AK Antony to New Delhi on Tuesday.

It is learnt that Congress interim chief Sonia Gandhi summoned the former union minister in his capacity as chairman of the AICC disciplinary committee. The move comes after the party sought explanation from MLAs loyal to Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot for skipping the Congress Legislature Party meeting on Sunday and working towards thwarting the chances of Sachin Pilot to succeed Gehlot.

Before leaving on Tuesday, Antony, 81, rubbished rumours that he was tipped to succeed Sonia as the party's national head. "I relocated to Thiruvananthapuram after bidding adieu from active politics. My health has not been very good after thepandemic," he told reporters when asked about the rumours. Antony also expressed confidence that the current issues plaguing the party would be resolved soon. It is learnt he will meet Sonia on Wednesday.

Despite holding marathon talks at the Congress headquarters in New Delhi over the last few days, the high command has failed to resolve the crisis in Rajasthan that emerged after Gehlot loyalists objected to the national leadership's move to remove him as CM and choose Pilot as his successor. With the presidential poll process also getting complex by the day, Sonia urged the senior leader to join her in addressing the crisis.

Congress national general secretary (organisation) K C Venugopal is already in New Delhi, reaching there on Monday after excusing himself from the Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra in Kerala.

BJP TREATS WOMEN AS SECOND-CLASS CITIZENS: RAHUL

Malappuram: The BJP is treating women as second-class citizens, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi has said. He was speaking at a public meeting held as part of the Bharat Jodo Yatra at Pandikkad in Malappuram on Tuesday. He attacked the BJP citing the murder of a 19-year-old girl in Uttarakhand. He said the only reason the teen had to die was that she had refused to be a prostitute. "A BJP leader runs a hotel. His son asks a receptionist at that hotel to become a prostitute. There are messages on her WhatsApp in which she refuses to become a prostitute. They offered Rs 10,000 to Rs 15,000 to become a prostitute. When she refused to become a prostitute, she was found dead in a lake. This is the way the BJP treats women in the country. The CM there destroyed the evidence in the case. They destroyed the hotel so that nobody could ever find out what happened. This is the ideology of the BJP. Women are second-class citizens for them," Rahul Gandhi said. "India can never succeed if it treats women as second-class citizens. The BJP is spreading hatred and dividing the country. With this ideology, they cannot create developed cities or a good education system," he added. ENS

Nadda meets Catholic priests in Kerala

ENS @ Kottayam/T'Puram

EVEN as the BJP is making all-out efforts to woo Christian voters in Kerala, party president JP Nadda has held a closed-door meeting with archbishops of two major Christian denominations in the state, triggering speculations.

Nadda met Mar Joseph Perumthottam, Archbishop of Changanassery diocese of the Syro-Malabar Church and Mar Mathew Moolakkattu, Archbishop of the Kottayam diocese of the Knanaya Church, on Sunday at the Knanaya Church's Educity campus at Thellakom in Kottayam. Curiously, the meeting occurred soon after the formation of Bharatiya Christian Sangamam, an organisation floated by political and community leaders of various Christian church denominations.

Sources said the meeting was part of the BJP's "confidence building measures" with minorities.

Essay competition on Prophet causes row in govt school

AMIT S UPADHYE @ Hubballi

AN inquiry has been ordered by the education department in Gadag district against the principal of a government school for allegedly holding an essay competition on Prophet Muhammad on school premises.

Last week, Principal Munaf Bijapur had organised a writing competition for the students and had also announced attractive cash prizes for the winners. Some parents who came to know about the competition inquired with the school authority. On Tuesday, members of a right-wing organisation visited the school in Nagavi village, demanding action against the principal.

The protesters picketed the headmaster and abused him. They demanded his resignation. The group left after the Gadag Rural Police team arrived and pacified them. Gadag BEO N M Naduvinmani visited the school and held a meeting with the authorities. "An inquiry has been ordered against the principal of the school. After the inquiry, suitable action will be taken," he said.

"The principal is a government employee and he should teach what is in the syllabus. The principal had tried to lure the children by offering ₹5,000 for first prize and ₹3,000 and ₹2,000 for the runners up. What if it is an attempt at conversion. The principal must be suspended and police should probe the case," demanded the protesters.

Principal apologises

Principal Munaf Bijapur tried to convince the crowd. "I organised the competition without any wrong intentions. Noted Muslim leader from Gadag Junedsab Umachagi had visited our school a few days ago and gifted two books on Muhammad Paigambar, after which I organised a competition, thinking the cash prize may help the students. I have already apologised to the protesters and officials from the education department," he said.

GLOBAL RECESSION CLOSING IN AS WAR EXTENDS PAST AUTUMN

The extended war in Ukraine has cut growth forecasts further, and the world economy is dangerously close to slipping into recession, the policy group of the developed world—the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD)—has warned. In retaliation to the West's economic sanctions, Russia has cut back on gas supplies more than was expected. With the over-dependency of heavy industry and home heating on Russian gas and the costs spiralling as supplies vanish, Germany, Italy, and the UK may enter a long recession. OECD has cut the global growth forecast to 2.2% in 2023 from the earlier 2.8% in June. The global economy needs to grow by at least 4% to keep up with the rising population. With the Ukraine war being fought in its backyard, the eurozone will be the worst hit by the global slowdown. The 19-nation bloc's growth is expected to slip to just 0.3% in 2023, from 3.1% this year.

The more robust economies are also taking it on the chin. Germany's economy will shrink by 0.7% next year, down from a June estimate of 1.7% growth. China will drop to 3.2% this year, the lowest since 1970, and the US will slow from 1.5% growth this year to only 0.5% for 2023. Central banks of most developed countries have warned of a spate of interest hikes to cool demand and drag back inflation. Though there are few options to tackle the crisis, the World Bank has warned that competitive rate hikes would push the global economy faster into recession.

These are dangerous signals for the man on the street in India and elsewhere. Slower growth and continued inflation mean eroding family incomes. The global slowdown will simultaneously lower demand for Indian goods and services and hit export earnings. The war, which has blunted India's recovery too, will mean a significantly lower 1.3% GDP growth and 2.3% fall in income growth, World Bank officials warned in April. The negative impact may be greater with the Ukraine invasion extending into autumn. On the other hand, India has the opportunity to ride out the crisis better than most. It is substantially 'decoupled' from global headwinds—we are not dependent on export-led growth, and international crude prices are moving southwards, close to $80 a barrel. India's internal demand has always been strong, which will be key in the coming months.

SHUN SLEDGING, FOLLOW RAHANE'S EXAMPLE

After West Zone captain Ajinkya Rahane sought to discipline his 20-year-old colleague Yashasvi Jaiswal, the latter left the field in the Duleep Trophy final against South Zone on Sunday. Jaiswal, exceptional with the bat in the match, had been sledging South Zone batter Ravi Teja, who complained to the on-field umpires. Captain Rahane, apprised of it, talked to the young batter, who then walked out of the field. It is rare when a captain asks a player to leave the ground for excessive sledging. Rahane later said whatever transpired was not acceptable; opponents, umpires and other officials must be respected at all times. The skipper is one of those players who always keeps a level head, and whose conduct on and off the field is exemplary. This brings us to the controversial topic of what constitutes sledging. What is within the rules?

Sledging can loosely be translated as a verbal act of aggression in the field of play. The Australian cricket team, which regularly used to do it under Steve Waugh, called it 'mental disintegration', to unsettle opponents. Because there is a very thin line that separates sporting and unsporting acts of aggression, the degree of the violation depends on interpretation. International cricket is replete with such instances. The iconic image of Pakistan's Javed Miandad charging at Australia's Dennis Lillee with a raised bat is forever etched in our memory. The infamous 'Monkeygate' episode involving India's Harbhajan Singh and Aussie Andrew Symonds got authorities to sit up and take cognisance of the malaise. Though there is no rule penalising sledging, if it gets abusive—either personal or racial—umpires and match officials have the authority to step in. The content of sledging is subjective as they are open to interpretation, but captains like Rahane would not tolerate anything abusive and personal.

Of late, sledging has reduced considerably in international cricket because of the cordial relationship among players. With many of them becoming colleagues (or friends) thanks to representing the same franchises in the Indian Premier League and other franchise-based events, good-natured banter has replaced sledging. And ICC now has stricter rules like fines and allows players to complain to the umpire about on-field personal abuse. Yet, it's up to individuals to ensure the gentleman's game forever remains gentlemanly.

QUICK TAKE

IDEOLOGY AND IRRITATION

Italy has two firsts—a woman prime minister from a far-right party with fascist roots. Anticipated reactions range from Brazil hailing 'God, Fatherland and Family' and European Parliament's Socialists' predicting a 'dark day for Italy'. The West sees a new task at hand, of un-righting the expanding Right in Europe—France, Sweden, Spain, Hungary and Poland and now, Italy. Closer home, however, right-wing resurgence helped Giorgia Meloni, but that's not all. Frequent power changes in Italy—three coalitions since the last election—left the voters so frustrated that many were willing to back anyone who hadn't run for office.

NEED NEW MORALS TO CONFRONT BANAL VIOLENCE

Violence is more impersonal, logical, and rationalised. It is not spontaneous but planned, also an act of consumption

SHIV VISVANATHAN

Social scientist associated with THE COMPOST HEAP, a group researching alternative imaginations

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Recently, I asked a friend of mine, a major consultant in innovation systems: what are the two most innovative domains of Indian life? In a lazy way, I expected him to say IT and biotechnology. His answer caught me by surprise. "Technology is not half as innovative as social systems; corruption and violence are the two most innovative aspects of India. They threaten democracy in a way even technology cannot." I was surprised and asked him to explain.

He said, "The tragedy is you use the same word for a changing world." Violence, he explained, is no longer face-to-face. It is not a phenomenon you can explain with a standard sense of good and evil. Its very demonology has changed.

He told me to take the case of a riot. Riots are no longer occasional encounters or outbursts in a neighbourhood, where people go back to normalcy in a week. A riot is systemic and extremist. It seeks to eliminate the other as a population. The Sikh riots of 1984 was the first example. The violence had the scale of a demographic act. There was little remorse after such elimination. People dug up pits and filled them with phosphorus to hasten the elimination of the body. You don't think of your neighbour in that way.

Violence is more impersonal, logical, and rationalised. It is not spontaneous but is planned. Also, today, violence is an act of consumption. When one rapes a woman, he may take a selfie to replay it. The violence that is replayed is what you call violence. Of course, one adds the excuse that you are rectifying history. Rape is wished away as a rectification of history. The horror is in the logic of the act.

He made the third point. Violence earlier triggered memory. Today, it erases it in the name of state logic. You can displace thousands of people and make them refugees because you treat dams and development as sacred. Opposing development is seen as anti-national, and Modi leads the fray by saying 'urban Naxals' are anti-development. All you need is a file to carry out such violence and declare closure by saying the file is closed.

I objected and said those are aberrations. He smiled and said people are dispensable and disposable. Take three examples. Covid-19 showed that the informal economy was disposable. You could chemically spray construction workers as if they were vermin. It was policy. World policy hides more violence than we think. Nuclear leaks are repaired by seasonal workers who are looking for a job. Then they disappear to the village to die a horrible death. All in the name of security.

I started thinking of examples myself. I thought of AFSPA, where soldiers can indulge in rape and murder with impunity. Colin Gonsalves proved it in the case of Manipur, collecting over a thousand cases of women who were raped. Security and development are potent words that can sanitise any form of violence. Bureaucracies add to the logic of violence. I remember reading about vasectomies in the Shah Commission report. A 75-year-old man objects that he is not fit for the procedure, but the clerk replies that the quota has to be filled. Numbers and body count are part of the new litany of violence.

I remembered the literary critic Ganesh Devy telling me, "All you need is a label or a definition to allow for violence. The government of India defined language as a form of life with a script. In one stroke, over 2,000 oral languages were eliminated, all in the name of progress." Progress is one of the most genocidal words in history. It erases people and memories with equal ease.

Another friend of mine referred to Garrett Hardin's Promethean Ethics, where Hardin advocates 'triage'. Triage is a systematic elimination of people who are seen as incompetent, underdeveloped, or defeated. Henry Kissinger advocated the suspension of aid to Africa on the grounds of triage. He felt aid would be wasted on a people who were incompetent to help themselves. The irony is that Kissinger caps his career with a Nobel for peace.

Hardin makes the same critique about Mother Teresa, claiming her work among the old and poor is wasted. Caring and love does not help in the long run, and the poor, he claims, are doomed. Today, triage is a part of medical policy and is the very concept that helps us get used to eliminating people. Elimination sounds logical, even necessary. We see it as a part of the social, Darwinian idea of the survival of the fittest.

In fact, genocide today is a systematic part of state policy. Take China. Not only did it keep a million tribals in camps, but it also eliminated a million Tibetans. The Chinese destroyed over 4,000 monasteries to make sure Buddhism would never survive. The sadness is we read all this as a part of the rational logic of policy.

Violence today has become scientific, rational, and bureaucratic. The perpetrator does not feel like she or he is a part of the crime. In fact, she or he often behaves like a well-behaved clerk taking orders and doing duty.

One is reminded of Hannah Arendt's poignant essay, Eichmann in Jerusalem: A Report on the Banality of Evil. She asks how a frail, helpless man with balding hair can be a genocidal expert. She quotes psychologist Bruno Bettelheim, who interviewed him. Bettelheim claimed that Eichmann was more normal than the psychologist was after having interviewed him. For Eichmann did not look pitiful. He claimed that he was part of a chain of command. Arendt calls such violence a part of the banality of evil. She wonders how many Eichmanns lurk in our offices contemplating genocide in the name of development and security.

The question lies in how one stands up to it. I think we need more creative ethics and a community of scholars who unravel the logic of such acts rather than seeing them as indispensable logic. At another level, we need new narratives to chronicle the banality of such violence. The very idea of the 'satyagrahi' needs to be reinvented to confront such innovative evil. We need a new language of morals and the creative power of literature to confront genocide today. This is a challenge that democracy has to face but lacks the will and the imagination to confront the everydayness of displacement, genocide, triage, and exterminism that haunts us—as we watch helplessly.

KUSHOK BAKULA AND THE INDIA-CENTRAL ASIA QUESTION

HINDOL SENGUPTA

Chief Economic Research Officer at Invest India, national investment promotion agency of GOI

India took over the baton of the chairmanship of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) from Uzbekistan at the recently concluded Samarkand round. It will host the next SCO meeting in 2023. As a grouping of India, Russia, China, and Pakistan, its main focus is usually on strategic security and energy issues. But an equally important parallel engagement is India's rising interest in Central Asia. Whether in energy and security, cooperation, tackling Islamic extremism or climate change, India's engagement with Central Asia is increasing.

In light of this, it is time for the story of Kushok Bakula Rinpoche to go mainstream. There are many reasons for this. Bakula, a prominent Buddhist monk who became one of India's longest-serving diplomats in history with a decade-long stint (1990–2000) as the country's envoy to Mongolia, presents a best-case example of how strategic and cultural relations can go hand-in-hand with Indian diplomacy. Mongolia also has observer status in the SCO.

Bakula Rinpoche was already prominent as the undisputed leader of Ladakh before he ever stepped into Mongolia. Born in an aristocratic family and trained in Tibet, he had achieved very high standards of academic and scriptural excellence. He could have stayed on and become a high lama in Tibet but chose instead to return to Ladakh, where he was first on the frontlines of organising the resistance against the first attack from Pakistan on the region. Soon afterwards, he became the most trusted leader in Ladakh.

But what Bakula Rinpoche did in Mongolia was more remarkable than anything he had done before. He had a deep understanding of the threat from Communist China, having seen the takeover of Tibet by Mao's forces and the persecution and fleeing of many monks, including the Dalai Lama, to India. He also understood the deep reverence for Buddhism and Buddhist teachers in Mongolia and Central Asia.

All this knowledge came of use when Bakula landed in Mongolia as India's envoy and had to deal with Mongolians, including those looking for freedom from Communist oppression, seeking spiritual and temporal solace and guidance.

As an envoy, he was duty-bound not to take political sides, but as a spiritual teacher, he was free to offer solace. He did this with remarkable success, seeing people flock to him despite apprehensions of the Communist regime.

When the Soviet Union collapsed, leading to the end of Communist rule in Mongolia, Bakula was hailed as a hero and a revered spiritual master. People bowed before him when he walked on the streets and brought newborns to him for blessings. When I travelled to Ulaanbaatar recently, politicians told me that Bakula, still phenomenally revered in the country, probably travelled to more parts of Mongolia than most local politicians ever do.

As a nation-state rediscovering its cultural roots and building international bonds ... India must remember to hold up and learn from the experience of Rinpoche

What Kushok Bakula managed to do in Mongolia was remarkable. He became the face of the country's return to traditional Buddhism, which had been suppressed and demolished through incessant violence during Communist rule. Kushok Bakula worked to highlight the discovery of mass graves where scores of bodies of Buddhist monks who were murdered by Communist thugs had been buried.

He worked with Mongolian leaders to restore the sanctity and primacy of Buddhist practice at the heart of the Mongolian lived experience, constantly preaching alongside his diplomatic practice.

It is because of Kushok Bakula that the relics of the Buddha were first sent from India for a tour of Mongolia, and through his efforts, and the donations that locals had given him as a monk, he established a monastery (a branch of his monastery in Ladakh) at the heart of Ulaanbaatar. The Pethub monastery is a thriving site today, a place of great reverence and worship for countless Mongolians. During my visit, I even met a local handyman who comes ever so often to provide service free of charge. I asked him why, and he told me that he had been going blind, but after meeting Kushok Bakula Rinpoche, he believed that his eyes almost miraculously healed. It made him a believer in the divinity of the Rinpoche.

Even if one is not a believer, it is impossible to ignore what Kushok Bakula Rinpoche, a spiritual counsellor to so many leaders in Mongolia, including presidents and prime ministers, achieved. Through his piety and integrity, he was able to unite and soothe a country that had gone through tremendous turmoil and pain and at the same time, build lasting bonds of friendship between India and Mongolia. He even regularly sent young Mongolians to study in India—as monks, artists, and scholars—and today, some of his best students are lauded in Mongolian society.

As a nation-state rediscovering its cultural roots and building international bonds based on those civilisational ties, India must remember to hold up and learn from the experience of Kushok Bakula Rinpoche. Long before others, there was a practising monk, in the robes of a monk, keeping the rituals and practices of a monk, but without any difficulty in balancing his spiritual life and his professional public life.

The Rinpoche showed how spirituality could be interwoven as the foundation of integrity, which is the best asset in public life. He showed how to use that civilisational knowledge as a force multiplier to unite people, showcase compassion, and promote harmony. When the history of Indian diplomacy is written, Kushok Bakula Rinpoche will go down as one of the greatest Indian diplomats of all time—a unique man, in a unique moment, and rising effortlessly to the task.

As India renews its efforts to expand its Central Asian footprint and counter its rivals in this critical geography, the lessons from the life of Kushok Bakula Rinpoche would be vital in understanding how to take India's greatest treasures and how to share it with the world in a manner that can win friends and influence people.

This Buddhist master should illuminate India's path in Central Asia.

UP teacher kills student

Apropos of Thrashed by teacher, Class X boy dies after 19 days in hospital (Sept 27). It is very disturbing that Nikhil Kumar was thrashed by his teacher for making a mistake in a class test. Teachers like Ashwini Singh lack empathy, kindness and patience. This teacher deserves the most cruel punishment.

LPG brings relief

Apropos of Arunachal village celebrates arrival of first LPG cylinders (Sept 27). Vijaynagar people finally received LPG cylinders, though stoves are yet to arrive. Also, there is no proper arrangement to regularly supply these cylinders. They also have other problems; for instance, lack of proper roads force people to walk for miles to access transport. However, the arrival of LPG cylinders is still welcomed.

Owaisi's agenda

Apropos of Bhagwat for more 'Bharatiyata' from Muslims, says Asaduddin Owaisi (Sept 27). Although Owaisi is one of the most prominent leaders of the Muslim community, it is clear from his TNIE interview that he is finding fault with other Muslim leaders for their efforts to maintain harmony. Instead, he must applaud their work and focus on binding the communities.

Bhagwat took right step

Apropos of Welcome RSS attempt at reconciliation with Muslim community (Sept 26). RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat has taken a good step by visiting a mosque and madrasa to reduce the animosity between Hindus and Muslims. These two communities have been living in the country for centuries now, so it would be best if peace and harmony is maintained to aid betterment and progress.

Sleep is important

Apropos of the quick take, Don't let pilots doze off (Sept 26). Dozing off at around 3 am becomes inevitable. Also, it is not just about pilots. Asking anyone to work during that time is a fundamental mistake because it reduces their mental efficiency. But imagine the consequences if someone driving a vehicle or flying a plane dozes off!

SC to hear plea on Centre-Delhi tiff over civil services postings

A five-judge bench will hear dispute regarding power of postings and transfers of civil servants belonging to All India Services from November 9

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court five judge bench on Tuesday decided to commence hearing a case involving dispute between Delhi and Central governments regarding power of postings & transfers over civil servants belonging to All India Services serving GNCTD from November 9 on a day-to-day basis.

The dispute had arisen after a 2 judge bench in 2019 had delivered a split verdict and upheld Centre's notification dated July 23, 2014 and May 21, 2015 that had the effect of excluding jurisdiction of Delhi Government's Anti-Corruption bench from probing offences committed by central government employees, limiting it to employees of Delhi Government. While Justice Ashok Bhushan (now retired) had ruled that the Delhi Government had no power at all over the administrative services, Justice AK Sikri had said that the transfer or postings of the officer in top echelons of the bureaucracy (joint director and above) could only be done by the Central government and LG's view would prevail in case of difference of opinion for matters relating to other bureaucrats.

In May, a 3-judge bench led by then CJI NV Ramana had referred to 5 judge bench questions related to dispute between central and state government for an "authoritative pronouncement." The bench had said that the earlier constitution bench which interpreted Article 239AA which gives special status to Delhi required a further examination on the limited question pertaining to the scope of the executive and legislative powers of NCT Delhi with respect to services.

A fourth constitution bench to be headed by Justice S Abdul Nazeer will hear on Wednesday pleas challenging the Centre's 2016 decision to demonetise notes of ₹500 and ₹1,000. The pleas also challenged the validity of the order from November 2016 issued under RBI Act on the ground that it was violative of Articles 14, 19, 21 and 300A of the Constitution of India.

On December 16, 2016 a three judge bench of the SC had although refused to grant interim relief against the decision of demonetisation but had framed questions to be determined by a larger bench.

"Keeping in view the general public importance and the far reaching implications which the answers to the questions may have, we consider it proper to direct that the matters be placed before the larger Bench of five Judges for an authoritative pronouncement. The Registry shall accordingly place the papers before the Chief Justice for constituting an appropriate Bench," the SC had said. The court had also stayed the proceedings in the pleas challenging the policy, pending before HC's and had issued notice on the transfer petitions moved by the Centre. The petitions were last listed in 2019.

The bench which also comprises Justices BR Gavai, AS Bopanna, V Ramasubramanian and BV Nagarathna will hear pleas related to state's power to regulate freedom of speech and expression which had arisen against backdrop of Bulandshahr rape incident and powers of MLA to claim immunity.

Guj IPS tied to Ishrat case seeks stay on dismissal

NEW DELHI: Gujarat IPS officer Satish Chandra Verma who assisted in the Ishrat Jahan probe has again approached SC on Tuesday challenging Delhi HC's order of refusing to stay his dismissal. A bench of Justices KM Joseph and Hrishikesh Roy will consider Verma's petition.

On Tuesday, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta had told the Top Court that pursuant to HC's order dated September 26, another person named Dr Maheshwar Dayal, IPS, IG, CoBRA Sector has been appointed in lieu of the vacancy created by Verma's dismissal.

On September 19, the Supreme Court had stayed the Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) order dismissing him from service for a further period of one week. ENS

STRATEGY MEET

BJP renews game plan for poll-bound states, '24 election

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

AHEAD of state elections later this year and the Lok Sabha polls due in 2024, the BJP is attempting to renew its strategies in meetings with the party's state in-charges and general secretaries.

On Tuesday, the party held two different meetings. "We will have to not only win more seats in all state elections but also in 2024. We have to win people's trust through our ideology in which the nation comes first," party chief JP Nadda told the state in-charges.

Poll view: Nadda may continue as BJP chief

BJP president JP Nadda is likely to get another extension. The party's decision comes on the same organisational post in view of the assembly elections in some states, including Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh (home state of Nadda), Rajashthan, Karnataka. Earlier, the names of Dharmendra Pradhan and others were doing the rounds to be the next president.

Reviewing the outcomes of Lok Sabha Pravas Yojna, Nadda said the party's outreach had identified 144 parliamentary seats where the party lost in 2019. He said this outreach must intensify on a wider scale by highlighting PM Modi's performance and schemes for the marginalized sections ahead of the 2024 polls.

He asked the newly appointed state in-charges to strengthen the party's presence by sharing various concerns of the people. "The need is to make the people amenable to the party's political working mantra: sab ka saath sab ka vikas," said Nadda.

The party chief also discussed in detail the party's booth strategy and booth management keeping the SC, ST and OBC people in mind.

Party sources say the BJP has launched a 'Basti Samprak Abhiyan' through its SC Morcha across the country and identified nearly 75,000 booths where SC vote is crucial.

"Details were discussed on the outcome of recent tours of state in-charges to their respective states and feedback gathered from people. The BJP is enthused by the people's response," said a senior party functionary who participated in the meeting with Nadda.

"This was Nadda's first meeting with the party's newly appointed state in-charges amid growing attempts by the Opposition to unite against the BJP," said a senior BJP leader, adding that strategies related to Bihar post break-up with the JD-U were also discussed.

Party general secretary (organization) BL Santosh dwelt on the party's tactics to tackle the Opposition in states with emphasis on "creative" and "performance-oriented" agenda.

Nadda also detailed the party functionaries about the party strategies for Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh where AAP is trying to make inroads.

Govt may net creators behind blocked videos, YouTube channels

PARVEZ SULTAN @New Delhi

The Centre may consider registering criminal cases against the creators of YouTube channels and social media users, which run anti-India agenda and spread fake news.

A day ago, the ministry of information and broadcasting (I&B) had ordered the blocking of more than 100 YouTube channels and other digital platforms since December. Majority of them were being operated from Pakistan and around 35 of them were based in India. The ministry on Friday directed YouTube to block 45 videos, which were accused of spreading fake news to create animosity among religious communities.

At least three officials of the ministry confirmed to this reporter that no criminal case or FIR is registered against the handlers of the blocked Youtube channels or social media users but added that the ministry may explore possibilities to take action against the digital news outlets or accounts, which are based in India.

The minister, following the inputs and recommendations from the intelligence and security agencies, blocked the errant handles and digital platforms.

"Ideally, a case should be registered but the ministry can't get into this. It is not possible for us," said an official.

However, the officials opined that a criminal case may certainly act as a deterrent and help rein in hateful content to an extent.

"As most of the YouTube channels and social media accounts indulged in fake news, showing toxic content or running anti-India agenda are operated from outside the country, registration of a case or initiate criminal proceedings against the persons behind them is not possible. But we will start taking action against those who are based in India," said a senior official of the ministry.

Cyber law expert Pavan Duggal said that though the Government had appropriate power to register a criminal case against entities based in India under the Informational Technology (IT) Act depending on the nature of violation but generally it is only concerned about blocking the content.

"Registration of a criminal case is a matter of political will. FIRs can be registered but blocking is preferred. However, according to me, blocking is an outdated phenomenon. It is not topical, relevant and successful. We need to look at effective mechanisms," said Duggal.

JDU, RJD step up attack on BJP, say sure to win 40 seats in Bihar

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

RJD and JD(U) on Tuesday launched a blistering attack on BJP as Bihar Deputy Chief Minister Tejashwi Yadav claimed that BJP would not be able to bag even one seat in 2024 Lok Sabha election, JD(U) took out marches across the state to caution against BJP's alleged conspiracy.

Tejashwi told media persons, "It will be a big matter if BJP wins even one seat in Bihar in 2024 Lok Sabha election. BJP is jittery ever since formation of grand alliance government in the state," he remarked.

Reacting to BJP's remarks over several opposition leaders not attending INLD's 'Samman Diwas rally' held in Fatehabad in Haryana, Yadav said, "It makes no difference what others say. BJP is claiming that CM Nitish Kumar is daydreaming but everybody knows what LS election result in Bihar will be. NDA had won 39 out of total 40 seats in Bihar in the last Lok Sabha election but it will be a big matter if BJP wins even one seat this time."

Meanwhile, JD(U) took out 'Vigilance and Awareness marches' across the state against BJP's alleged conspiracy.

In the state capital, the march was taken out under the leadership of JD(U) national president and MP Rajiv Ranjan Singh aka Lalan Singh, JD(U) parliamentary board chairman Upendra Kushwaha and state party president Umesh Kushwaha.

Claiming that the grand alliance will win all 40 Lok Sabha seats in Bihar in the 2024 Lok Sabha election, Lalan Singh accused BJP of whipping up passions and creating tension in Bihar and other parts of the country.

"BJP wants to engage different communities in a fight to bolster its prospects and divert people's attention from issues like corruption, unemployment, inflation," he remarked.

BJP wants to engage different communities in a fight to bolster its prospects and divert people's attention from issues like corruption, unemployment, inflation

Lalan Singh, JDU national president

Lalan Singh said that Union Home Minister Amit Shah during his recent visit to Purnia did a lot of 'jumlebaazi' (gimmickry). He contended Shah wrongly claimed that the airport had been completed in Purnia.

"We are cautioning people not to be swayed away by the propaganda of BJP. We will win all 40 LS seats in Bihar," he claimed.

"The entire opposition will come on a single platform ahead of 2024 Lok Sabha election as chief minister Nitish Kumar is making concerted efforts in this regard," he contended.

On Tuesday, the JD(U) march in Patna commenced by paying tributes to Babasaheb Ambedkar at his statue near the Patna High Court, and flocked by thousands of JD(U) workers.

Notably, Nitish Kumar had pulled the plug on alliance with the BJP less than two months ago over apprehensions that the party was trying to split the JD(U).

Army's artillery arm all set for indigenous push

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

INDIAN Army's fighting Arm Artillery is undergoing a major modernization process with a focus on acquiring indigenously produced weapon systems and ammunition. Artillery is one of the oldest arm which was raised on 28th September 1827. It celebrates the 196th Raising Day on Wednesday.

Excluding the Ultra Light Howitzers M-777 guns, the sources in defence establishment say, all the new gun systems procured in the last five years or being procured, are developed and designed in the country only.

The Arm of Artillery consists of guns, rockets, missiles and Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAVs). It launches munitions far beyond the range and power of infantry firearms.

The plan is a mix of acquiring new guns, up-gradation of the existing gun systems and enhancing the ranges, precision and lethality of the missiles, rockets and ammunition. The Army aims to standardize its bulk of the guns to 155mm/ 52 Calibre, said the sources in the Defence establishment. The Army has added new regiments recently and few more are undergoing the trials before getting inducted. A Regiment of Artillery comprises 18 Guns.

The 155/52 Calibre Gun is indigenously produced self propelled Gun System by Larsen and Toubro and is capable of firing bombs beyond 40 kilometers.

The K9 guns along with the Bofors gun was moved to Eastern Ladakh and as the Chinese troops clashed with the Indian Army soldiers in May 2020.

Till date the Army has inducted 100 K9 Vajra gun systems and Rajnath Singh-headed DAC has granted approval for procurement of additional 100 K9 Vajra. Sources said, the process has been initiated and a request for proposal (RFP) will be issued very shortly. "There will be no trials for the fresh guns. The vendor would only have to submit the commercial bid and then cost will be negotiated."

The initial lot of the K9 Guns was meant for deployment in the deserts. But, the new Guns will be coming with winterisation kits to protect the battery, lubricants, oil among others from freezing in the sub-zero temperature.

Sources added one Regiment of Dhanush (155 mm/45 Calibre)has been inducted and the second regiment will come up by March 2023. Indian Army had inked a deal to procure 114 Dhanush 155 mm/45-calibre towed howitzer with a strike range of 38 km in 2019.

The Gun System is being made by Jabalpur, Madhya Pradesh based Ordnance Factory Board and "It has been electronically and mechanically upgraded on the basis of the first phase of the Transfer of Technology deal under the Bofors contract of the late 1980s."

INDIA NOT IN SYNC WITH G7 PUSH FOR PRICE CAP ON RUSSIAN OIL?

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA has not had any issue in defence supplies from Russia and might not endorse a price cap on Russian oil, External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar indicated after his meeting with US Secretary of State Anthony Blinken on Tuesday.

"Oil price cap on Russian crude is a G7 initiative," he said suggesting India may not be on the same page. "Past few months the energy market has been under stress, not so much the pricing but availability is an issue. Our concern is that energy market is under stress. Regarding buying of military equipment we have no problem of getting spares from Russia. Where we get our military supplies from is not an issue. We look at possibilities across the berth and exercise a choice which we believe is in our national interest. Having said that, we have also taken military aircraft from US, France and Israel as we have a tradition of multi-sourcing," said Jaishankar.

Speaking about the Ukraine war, he said: "We have taken the position privately, publicly, confidentially and consistently that this conflict is not in anybody's interest."

Blinken sought to justify the US' $450 million F-16 aid to Pakistan, saying the programme helps it deal with terrorist threats emanating from Pakistan or from the region. "We've a responsibility and obligation to whomever we provide military equipment to, that it's maintained and sustained," he said.

‘Cornered’ Cong MLAs soften stand

Facing disciplinary action over revolt, Ashok Gehlot camp says it has faith in high command

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

Congress MLA Pratap Singh Khachariyawas addresses media in Jaipur on Tuesday | PTI

WITH the Congress high command planning disciplinary action, some of Ashok Gehlot loyalists have started softening their tone.

The boycott of the Congress Legislature Party (CLP) meeting in Jaipur on Sunday evening and the subsequent developments have seen as “indiscipline” by the party high command.

At a press conference in Jaipur on Tuesday, Chief Whip and PWD Minister Mahesh Joshi, who is facing disciplinary action after Sunday’s revolt, said that he would accept any decision of the party high command. Joshi claimed that AICC Rajasthan in-charge Ajay Maken had not fully understood what the Rajasthan MLAs had to say.

Joshi, one of the key ministers who reportedly spearheaded the rebellion, said, “If the high command gives notice, then I am ready to respond. If someone punishes me, he will also suffer. No MLA was forcibly invited to UDH Minister Shanti Dhariwal’s house. Everyone bows before the wishes of the high command.”

He added, “We never said that our three conditions should be part of the proposal. Ajay Maken is confused. We did not even know the agenda of the meeting. If given a chance, we will prove our loyalty.”

Similarly, some other MLAs who had attended a meeting at Dhariwal’s house on Sunday evening, too, have softened their stand, reposing their faith with the high command. Dr Jitendra Singh, an MLA, said, “The resignations are wrong. I am with the high command, whoever it makes the Chief Minister, I am with the high command.”

At a press conference on Monday, Dhariwal had stepped up offensive against Maken, accusing him of conspiring against Gehlot.

Meanwhile, Mallikarjun Kharge and Maken, who had come to Jaipur as AICC observers, reportedly emailed their report to Sonia Gandhi, in which they have questioned the role of Ashok Gehlot and three ministers of his camp as well as some MLAs. Action has been recommended against Shanti Dhariwal, Joshi and Food Minister Pratap Singh Khachariyawas, according to sources.

The CLP meeting was to be held at 7pm on Sunday evening at the CM’s residence, but the MLAs didn’t turn up, the report said. Instead, MLAs close to Gehlot went to a meeting at the house of Dhariwal, the report added.

On Sunday, about 90 supporters of Gehlot did not attend the CLP meeting, and instead attended a meeting at Dhariwal’s house. Later, 70 MLAs went to the house of Speaker CP Joshi and submitted their resignations.

Not approaching governor now, says Rajasthan BJP

As the political impasse in Rajasthan continues, the BJP said that it will move cautiously and adopt a wait-and-watch policy. The Congress government is facing uncertainty after several MLAs close to Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot resigned last week over the purported move to appoint Sachin Pilot as the CM.Amidst rumours that the state is heading for President’s rule, Rajasthan BJP president Satish Poonia told TNIE that the party has no plans to approach the Raj Bhavan. Poonia, who is in Delhi currently has spoken with BJP president J P Nadda and apprised him of the situation. As many as 82 MLAs, including ministers have rendered resignations to Assembly Speaker C P Joshi on Sunday. “Right now, we have no intention to approach the Governor. First, we have to watch how the situation is evolving over the next two days. People are suffering because of Constitutional machinery failure,” said Poonia. The central leadership has asked the state unit to keep a close watch on the evolving situation, said Poonia, adding that the party is calibrating its strategies for the Assembly elections scheduled for next year. In the 200- member Assembly, while Congress has 108 MLAs, BJP has 71. Thirteen Independent MLAs also support the Congress government. ENS

Furore in Punjab Assembly over special session

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

BEDLAM prevailed in the special assembly session called on Tuesday by Punjab CM Bhagwant Mann as he moved a confidence motion and slammed Congress for supporting BJP’s ‘Operation Lotus.’

The Congress urged Governor Banwarilal Purohit to censure Mann for “misleading” the House and the governor on the confidence motion, demanding that a case should be registered against the CM. After moving the confidence motion, Mann alleged that Congress was supporting ‘Operation Lotus’ and that its MLAs had run away from the discussion. He justified the motion alleging attempts to topple the elected government.

“BJP is using the anti-defection law as a tool to form a government in the state. Congress supports it,’’ Mann said. “Three crore people of Punjab have faith in us. I have faith in my 91 soldiers (MLAs),’’ he said.

“The Congress’ ‘Bharat Jodo yatra’ does not touch Gujarat and Himachal to give an advantage to the BJP in the poll-bound states,” Mann said.

Congress MLAs protested when Mann brought the confidence motion, saying it was not on the agenda of the Business Advisory Committee meeting. The House proceedings saw disruptions and adjournments after which Congress MLAs were bundled out. They staged a protest outside the House.

Meanwhile, two BJP MLAs Ashwani Sharma and Jangi Lal Mahajan walked out against the confidence motion.

Leader of the Opposition Partap Singh Bajwa opposed the trust vote. “The government summoned the assembly session against the constitutional provisions. The governor had rightly disallowed it. However, the government was hell-bent on holding the session though there was no immediate need or emergency for it,’’ said Bajwa, adding that instead of taking up the issues affecting the state, the AAP government preferred to bring in the confidence motion. He urged the governor to censure the CM for “misleading” the House, demanding that an FIR be registered against Mann.

Addressing the mock session outside the House, Punjab Congress chief Amarinder Singh Raja Warring said the government move amounted to the “murder of democracy” as it has challenged the Governor in calling such a motion.

Stubble burning: ‘Mere sloganeering won’t do’

In a recent address at the Punjab Agriculture University during the Kisan Mela, Punjab CM Bhagwant Mann was back to his humorous best. He criticised the slogans to spread social messages. He offered two instances, stating that we have been exposed to family planning messages since we were young, such as “Hum Do Hamare Do” and “Don’t Give Dowry” (Dulhan Hi Dahej Hai), and he asked, “Have we been able to control the growing population of the country?” Has the dowry custom been abandoned? He claimed that putting an end to stubble burning in the state requires a scientific strategy rather than just writing slogans.

AAP MLA caught on wrong side of law

Four days after AAP MLA Gurpreet Bassi Gogi was seen riding a motorcycle without a helmet during a protest march near the Punjab assembly against the cancellation of a special session of the Punjab assembly on September 22, the Chandigarh Traffic Police had issued a challan to Gogi, an AAP MLA from Ludhiana (West). Following a photo of the legislator driving without a helmet that was posted by traffic activist Harman Singh Sidhu and widely shared on social media, the member was handed a challan. Later, Gurpreet expressed regret and admitted that he should have worn a helmet. He also stated he would pay the challan himself.

Legislator’s wife reprimands officials

Beant Kaur, the wife of Gurdit Singh Sekhon, an AAP MLA from Faridkot, was unable to get seats for herself and her guests at the “Virasat-e-Faridkot” event, where popular Punjabi musician Satinder Sartaj was playing. She allegedly got angry and reprimanded senior district officials in Faridkot for failing to arrange seats in the “VVIP” gallery because all of the seats were already taken. The officers vacated their seats for the MLA’s wife and her guests, but she did not get pacified and left the programme in a huff. However, Sekhon asserted that the arrangements were poor and refuted claims that his wife reprimanded any officers during the programme.

Corporal punishment: UP boy cremated amid protest

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

AMID the large-scale protests by the family members of the boy, who died after being allegedly thrashed by his teacher for giving one wrong answer in class test, Auraiyya district authorities on Tuesday descended on the house of the victim urging the family to perform the last rites.

However, the body of the student was cremated outside the village at 12 noon on Tuesday.

The victim’s family had refused to perform last rites after some Bhim Army activists staged a violent protest against the minor’s death, placing the body on the road on Monday.

The family members and local people staged a protest on the Phaphund-Auraiya road on Monday night demanding the teacher’s arrest. The protestors also indulged in large-scale arson before being chased away by the police.

ADGP Bhanu Bhaskar, IG Prashant Kumar, Divisional Commissioner Raj Shekhar, DM Prakash Chandra Srivastava along with SP Charu Nigam reached Baisauli village to meet the family Monday night.

CEC takes jibe on poll dates prediction, says no point in ‘astro advice’

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

Without taking any name, Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) Rajiv Kumar on Tuesday jibed at senior Gujarat leaders for “astrologically predicting” the date(s) of the state polls even though they knew the Commission announces such decisions before the media.

CEC Rajiv Kumar and EC Anoop Chandra Pandey were in Gujarat on Tuesday to review poll preparedness with various agencies. The objective is to ensure the polls are conducted in a temptation-free and smooth environment.

“Some self-proclaimed astrologers have announced the election dates even before my arrival,” said the CEC. He said whenever the election date is decided, the media would be first to know.

On Monday, state BJP chief CR Patil indicated that the elections would be completed by November-end. He was quick to add that it was his personal observation.

“We have already toured Himachal. The Gujarat tour is getting over. We consider many logistical factors before taking a decision on election dates,” said Kumar. “I wish the MCC (Model Code of Conduct) was in force. Our hands are tied at the moment,” he said.

About the Gujarat poll preparedness, the CEC said political parties would have to justify the grounds for fielding a candidate with criminal background. “Such candidates will have to advertise thrice about their criminal record so that citizens can make informed decisions,” he said.

Poll preparedness

- 4.83 crore registered voters in Gujarat
- 51,782 polling stations will be set up
- Gujarat has 11,842 voters above 100 years of age
- Gujarat has 934 females on a ratio of 1000 males
- Of the total 182 assembly seats in the state, 13 are reserved for Scheduled Caste and 27 Scheduled Tribe candidates

Protests over bribe demand by cop, 201 farmers booked

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Lucknow

OVER 200 leaders of Bhartiya Kisan Union (BKU)–Swaraj were booked on Tuesday in connection with protests inside Sadar Kotwali in Kasganj district in western UP.

While the FIR against the farmers was lodged on Tuesday, the incident of the face-off between the protesting farmers and the cops had taken place on Monday.

As per the police sources, of the 201 union leaders and members booked, 51 are named and rest 150 are unidentified. The Kotwali police have slapped sections related to vandalism, disturbance in performance of duty, unrest and brawl against the farmers.

The sources claimed that the members of the BKU–Swaraj under the leadership of its state in-charge Ashish Pandey had gathered at the Sadar Kotwali on Monday to lodge a protest against inspector Bhudev Prasad, accusing him of demanding a bribe of Rs 5,000 from the mother of a farmer Manoj Yadav.

On BJP MP’s plea, HC asks Deoghar admn to issue demolition notices

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

THE Jharkhand High Court has directed Deoghar district administration to serve demolition notices to the owners of nine high-rise buildings around the airport, making them respondents, and submit a report in this regard.

The court was hearing a contempt petition filed by Godda MP Nishikant Dubey. Deoghar airport was inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on July 12.

The direction was passed by the division bench comprising Chief Justice Dr Ravi Ranjan and Justice S N Prasad while hearing a contempt petition filed by Dubey. The court will hear the matter next on October 19.

Dubey had approached Jharkhand High Court saying that the district administration so far has failed to demolish the nine high-rise buildings, which should not exist around the airport. Apart from this, he also informed the court that night landing facility is yet to be started at the airport.

Deoghar airport had hit the headlines recently after BJP MPs Nishikant Dubey and Manoj Tiwari along with seven others were booked by Jharkhand police for forcefully entering the Air Traffic Control (ATC) building and taking clearance for take-off on August 31. In the FIR lodged by airport security in-charge Suman Anan at Kunda police station on September 1, Dubey was charged with violating safety standards by misusing his power for take-off despite the fact that Deoghar airport doesn’t have a night take-off or landing facility.

The FIR then led to a Twitter war of words between Dubey and Deoghar Deputy Commissioner Manjunath Bhajantri, with both of them accusing each other of violating safety norms by entering the ATC room. The Delhi Police also filed a ‘Zero FIR’ against Bhajantri on Dubey’s complaint.

Dubey had filed the contempt petition through his lawyer Diwakar Upadhyay after the district administration failed to ensure proper operation of the airport.

She teaches in school once blown by dad-in-law

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

Ranju had requested CRPF authorities and the district administration to allow her to teach in the school when her father-in-law surrendered before the government

TEN years back her extremist father-in-law blew up the village school building. However, Ranju Devi is now a respected name in Chormara village of Jamui district in Bihar. She has started teaching children in the same school.

Ranju had requested CRPF authorities and the district administration to allow her to teach in the school when her father-in-law, former Maoist Baleshwar Koda, surrendered before the authorities in June.

Koda and other extremists owing allegiance to CPI (Maoist) had triggered an explosion at the school, located in the remote forest of Barhat locality, a decade back. The ramshackle building is situated on the same premises where classes are held currently.

“I am teaching children now and I feel nice about it. My prestige has also increased in the society. I want youngsters to study and progress in their lives,” Ranju, who is a matriculate, said. Thanks to her initiative, children have started coming to the school in large numbers as parents are gaining confidence about their future.

Jamui district magistrate Avaneesh Kumar Singh also applauded Ranju’s efforts for visiting the school daily to teach children.

Once a hotbed of Naxalism, Jamui district has undergone transformation over a period of time. The CRPF’s civic action programme has also played a major role in bringing a change in the area, particularly in reviving academic activities in the primary school.

Only one teacher is posted in the school, but even those classes were not being held out of fear of extremists. However, CRPF officers not only persuaded the teacher to visit the school regularly but also deployed four jawans to take classes for the students.

Currently, at least 9,650 primary schools are running and 10,835 have been upgraded in the LWE-affected areas. As many as 4,319 panchayats have high schools.

Jamui is among the four districts of Bihar covered under the Security Related Scheme of the Union home ministry. Under the scheme, the Centre reimburses the state government for the expenditure incurred on tackling extremism. Left-wing extremism is now limited to the 10 districts of Rohtas, Kaimur, Gaya, Nawada, Jamui, Lakhisarai, Aurangabad, Banka, Munger, and West Champaran in the state.

Arunachal Pradesh to hand over paper leak probe to CBI

Guwahati: The Arunachal Pradesh government will hand over the case of job paper leak to the CBI for a fair and prompt investigation. The BJP-ruled state’s Home Minister Bamang Felix said in order to deeply investigate the matter, the government decided to recommend a probe by the central agency. The police, as well as two other committees constituted by the state government, are probing the case. Six persons have been arrested so far. “The government decided to hand the case over to the CBI for further investigation,” the minister said.

Amit Shah discusses assembly polls with Gujarat CM, state BJP president

Ahmedabad: The Union Home Minister Amit Shah held a meeting related to the assembly elections of Gujarat at BJP headquarters Shree Kamalam in Gandhinagar on Tuesday. The meeting was attended by Gujarat CM Bhupendrabhai Patel and state BJP chief CR Patil and office bearers. Shah is on a two-day visit to Gujarat, where elections are due in December this year. Sources said that the Home Minister discussed the various ongoing agitations in Gujarat. He also asked the state president to strengthen the booth and page committee. Candidates’ selection processes and some disputes among BJP leaders were also discussed.

Kremlin proxies claiming victory in sham voting

KYIV

Russians lineup after crossing the border at Verkhny Lars between Georgia and Russia in Georgia on Tuesday | AP

KREMLIN-installed authorities were already claiming victory on Tuesday in annexation votes in Ukrainian regions under Russian control, as Moscow warned it could use nuclear weapons to defend the territories.

Election officials in Moscow said voters casting their ballots in Russia had overwhelmingly backed annexation, while authorities in Kherson and another Russian-occupied region, Zaporizhzhia, showed an initial 87% and 92% backing for the move.

"Saving people in the territories where this referendum is taking place…is the focus of the attention of our entire society and of the entire country," Russian President Vladimir Putin said. His spokesman Dmitry Peskov meanwhile said the votes would have 'radical' legal implications and that the so-called referendums "will also have consequences for security", referring to Moscow's threats to use nuclear weapons to defend its territory.

Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba, however, doubled down on Kyiv's promise to push out Russian forces from its country, saying the votes "would not have any influence" on the battlefield.

The annexation of the regions, which could happen as soon as Friday, sets the stage for a dangerous new phase in the seven-month war in Ukraine. Russia warned it could resort to deploying nuclear weapons to defend its own territory, including newly acquired lands.

Ukraine and its allies have denounced the referendums as a 'sham' and an attempt at a land grab.

The European Union spokesman Peter Stano announced the bloc would slap sanctions on organisers of the 'illegal' vote, following a similar move by Britain earlier in the week.

NATO chief Jens Stoltenberg tweeted that he spoke with Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky "and made clear that NATO Allies are unwavering in our support for Ukraine's sovereignty and right to self-defence". "The sham referenda held by Russia have no legitimacy and are a blatant violation of international law. These lands are Ukraine," Stoltenberg said on Twitter.

British Foreign Secretary James Cleverly said the ballots were "a desperate move" by Putin.

French Foreign Minister Catherine Colonna said while visiting Kyiv on Tuesday that France was determined "to support Ukraine and its sovereignty as well as territorial integrity." Agencies

Germany's population up 1% due to refugee influx

BERLIN

THE influx of Ukrainian refugees to Germany has pushed the country's population to a new all-time high of more than 84 million, the German Federal Statistical Office said on Tuesday.

By the end of June, the country's population increased by 843,000 people, or 1%, compared to the end of 2021. In comparison, the population grew by 82,000 people, or 0.1%, in the entire year of 2021. Around 750,000 Ukrainian refugees came to Germany seeking safety from the Russian invasion in the first half of 2022.

Most of them were female, the statistical office reported, saying that by the end of June 501,000 more Ukrainian women and girls were living in Germany than at the end of 2021, while the number of Ukrainian men and boys increased by 248,000.

Germany experienced population increases of this magnitude before—both immigration-related—in 1992 and 2015.

In 1992, about 700,000 people arrived, fleeing the war in Yugoslavia and coming from Eastern Europe following the opening of the borders there. AP

Japan holds state funeral for ex-PM Abe amid protests

TOKYO

JAPAN'S assassinated hawkish former leader, Shinzo Abe, was given a rare state funeral on Tuesday that was full of military pomp and surrounded by throngs of mourners as well as by widespread protests, with thousands taking to the streets in opposition.

Prime Minister Fumio Kishida said the publicly financed ceremony was a well-deserved honor for Japan's longest-serving modern political leader, but it has deeply split public opinion.

The event was attended by the United States Vice President Kamala Harris, Japanese Crown Prince Akishino and other foreign and Japanese dignitaries.

Kishida praised Abe as a politician with a clear vision for post-World War II economic growth who promoted national security, the development of Japan and the world and a "free and open Indo-Pacific" as a counter to China's rise

"You were a person who should have lived much longer," Kishida said.

Tokyo was under high security for the state funeral, especially near the venue, the Budokan martial arts hall.

At a protest in downtown Tokyo, thousands of people marched toward the hall, some banging drums and many shouting or holding banners and signs stating their opposition.

"Shinzo Abe has not done a single thing for regular people," participant Kaoru Mano said.

Japan's main political opposition parties boycotted the funeral, which critics say was a reminder of how pre-war imperialist governments used state funerals to fan nationalism.

The government maintains that the ceremony was not meant to force anyone to honour Abe. But the decision to give him the rare honor, which was made without parliamentary debate or approval, the high cost and other controversies have led to anger about the event. AP

Sunak backers speak out as UK economy spiral under Liz Truss

LONDON

THE supporters of Rishi Sunak in the Conservative Party leadership race are increasingly speaking out to point out that the Indian-origin former Chancellor had warned against much of economic turmoil unleashed by the new incumbent at 10 Downing Street.

While Sunak himself has remained conspicuously silent, his backers within the governing party have been highlighting how so-called 'Trussonomics' of tax cuts and higher borrowing has spooked the markets worldwide and sent the Pound Sterling tumbling against the dollar. 'Come back Rishi Sunak, all is forgiven,' reads an editorial in The Daily Telegraph.

"During the Tory leadership contest, the former Chancellor warned that Liz Truss' plans to borrow to fund tax cuts were 'dangerous' and risked 'making everything worse'. And, lo, his prophecy, dismissed as doomsterism at the time, has already come to pass," it said.

Meanwhile, the leader of opposition Labour Party also accused the Conservatives of losing control of the economy.

Rights group says Iran protest death toll tops 75 as crackdown intensifies

Women protest in Qamishli, Syria | AP

PARIS

MORE than 75 people have died in Iran's crackdown on 11 nights of unrest sparked by the death of Mahsa Amini, a rights group said, as Western nations pile pressure on the Islamic republic to end the violence.

The Iranian authorities' official death toll has remained at 41 since Saturday, including several members of the security forces, as the country is rocked by its biggest wave of protests in almost three years.

In Sanandaj, the capital of Amini's western home province of Kurdistan, women climbed onto the roofs of cars to tear off their headscarves in front of cheering crowds, images published by Oslo-based group Iran Human Rights (IHR) showed, with police nowhere to be seen.

Tehran crowds have shouted "death to the dictator", calling for the end of the more than three-decade rule of supreme leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei. Agencies

INDIA, PAKISTAN PARTNERS WITH DIFFERENT POINTS OF EMPHASIS: US

WASHINGTON

INDIA and Pakistan are both partners of the US with different points of emphasis, the Biden administration has said, a day after visiting External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar questioned the rationale behind Washington's $450 million F-16 security assistance to Islamabad.

Referring to the argument made by the US that F-16 sustenance package is to fight terrorism, Jaishankar has said that everybody knows where and against whom F-16 fighter jets are used. "You're not fooling anybody by saying these things," he said in response to a question during an interaction with the Indian-American community.

"We don't view our relationship with Pakistan, and on the other hand, we don't view our relationship with India as in relation to one another. These are both partners of ours with different points of emphasis in each," State Department Spokesperson Ned Price told reporters in response to a question on Jaishankar's remarks.

"We look to both as partners, because we do have in many cases shared values. We do have in many cases shared interests. And the relationship we have with India stands on its own. The relationship we have with Pakistan stands on its own," he said.

Responding to another question, Price said it is "not in Pakistan's interest to see instability and violence in Afghanistan".

"The support for the people of Afghanistan is something we discuss regularly with our Pakistani partners…and to see to it that the Taliban live up to the commitments that they have made," he added. PTI

Taliban leader calls for opening schools for girls in Af

Islamabad: A senior member of the Taliban-run government in Afghanistan on Tuesday called on Afghanistan's new rulers to reopen schools for girls beyond the sixth grade, saying there is no valid reason in Islam for the ban. The appeal from Sher Mohammad Abbas Stanikzai, the Taliban deputy foreign minister, came during a gathering.

TAX DEPT

CBDT to launch campaign from Oct 2 to clear pending cases

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) will launch a special campaign from 2 October for redressal of taxpayers' grievances, its chairman Nitin Gupta said on Tuesday.

There are several cases pending before the department. Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman asked the tax officials at an event to speedily clear such cases. "We are in the process of launching the campaign from October 2 to resolve the grievances. We have given instructions to the team to reduce the grievances as soon as possible. There could be some technical challenges due to the induction of new technology and data being shifted to the new platform. But we will overcome it," said Gupta.

The CBDT chairperson said the department will come out with clarifications soon regarding TDS on online gaming. In addition, he added there has been a 5-fold increase in the tax refund this year as compared to last year. Meanwhile, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Tuesday asked income tax officers to make the process of ITRs, refund and redressal speedier. "Even more efficient ways of refunds being processed will earn goodwill for the department," she said at an event here. As per the finance minister, the direct tax collection is sustaining the momentum. "There was a time in 2020 and early 2021, when observers pointed out indirect taxes were contributing a lot more than direct taxes, and questions of equity were raised," she stated.

Festive sales: E-tailers sell 1,100 phones each minute

Amazon, Flipkart, Meesho, Myntra kickstarted festive sales last week; premium phones such as iPhone 12, 13, OnePlus have driven sales

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

ONLINE shoppers, it seems, are taking advantage of festive season sales to get the best mobilephone deals this year, as 60-70 lakh mobiles have been sold in just four days in top e-commerce platforms.

E-tailers such as Amazon and Walmart-backed Flipkart, Meesho and Myntra kickstarted their festive sales last week.

According to a Redseer report, nearly 1,100 mobile phones were sold each minute. In total, ₹11,000 crore worth of mobiles were sold on large e-commerce platforms in four days of sale. Interestingly, premium phones such as iPhone 12, 13, OnePlus have driven mobile sales for the first four days.

Shoppers are also buying clothes and accessories, as fashion saw a 4.5x jump in terms of daily average GMV (gross merchandise value) or total value of items sold. An estimated ₹5,500 crore worth of apparel, footwear and accessories was sold in the first four days. Over 60% sales for Amazon Fashion came from Tier 2 and 3 cities and Amazon Beauty alone saw a 6X spike from customer favourite brands, Amazon said.

The e-commerce platform also said that customers preferred television brands such as Samsung, OnePlus, Mi, LG and Sony, leading to record sales for TVs. For Meesho too Tier 2, 3 and 4 cities accounted for 85% of orders on the day one of its sale. From September 22-25 alone, e-commerce platforms have clocked ₹24,500 crore sales, contributing to 60% of the projected GMV for festive sale. During the same period last year, they contributed 59%. This signals a better start to the festive period, said the Redseer report.

If you consider the number of shoppers, this time it touched a whopping 55 million. SaaS platform Unicommerce said in a study that in the first two days of this festive season, e-commerce reported 28% order volume growth compared to the first two days of sale in 2021. The study too said the electronics segment reported maximum sales and fashion remains in the dominant category. As far as jewellery is concerned, Amit Pratihari, General Manager, De Beers Forevermark, said there is still a pent-up demand for jewellery and hence we foresee that this festive season will be extremely strong, accelerating the momentum of diamond jewellery sales. In the first 36 hours, small and medium businesses, start-ups, artisans, women entrepreneurs offered the largest selection of products on Amazon and around 10 lakh unique products were sold.

BOJ CONDUCTS SPECIAL OPERATION TO CURB RISING YIELDS

The Bank of Japan said it would purchase Japanese government bonds in a special operation on Tuesday, with the benchmark 10-year yield brushing against the 0.25% policy ceiling as the central bank battles a relentless upward surge in global rates. The BOJ stands alone among developed markets in keeping the short-term policy rate negative, in addition to pinning the zero long-term yield, citing tepid wage growth, relatively low core consumer inflation compared with peers, and a fragile economic recovery. The BOJ will purchase debt with 10- to 25-year maturities worth 100 billion yen ($692.28 million), and securities with 5- to 10-year maturities worth 150 billion yen. The benchmark 10-year JGB yield was up 0.5 basis point at 0.25%, as of 0538 GMT, a level not seen since Sept. 16. The central bank pins the yield at +/- 25 basis points around zero under its yield curve control policy. Japan's bond market is under pressure amid a broad climb in global yields as major central banks including the U.S. Federal Reserve and the European Central Bank race to hike interest rates to rein in superheated inflation.

SRI LANKA

LOOKS TO REVIVE FREE TRADE DEAL WITH SINGAPORE

Sri Lanka will step up efforts to revive a stalled free trade pact with Singapore, President Ranil Wickremesinghe told the city state's premier on Tuesday, his office said in a statement. The leader of the crisis-hit Indian Ocean nation met Singapore Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong in Japan on the sidelines of a state funeral for Shinzo Abe, the former prime minister assassinated in July. The free trade pact signed in January 2018 was suspended because of objections from Sri Lankan opposition parties and professional bodies. Sri Lanka proposed more than a dozen amendments in May 2021 but talks have largely stalled. Meanwhile, the Asian Development Bank (ADB) is ready to provide further financial support to Sri Lanka, a top official of the regional lender said on Tuesday, as the Indian Ocean nation battles its worst economic crisis in more than seven decades. The remarks came after an ADB pact this month for an emergency loan of $200 million to ensure access to food and protect livelihoods after months of shortages of key essential items which sparked protests that forced out the president.

GOVT PLANS $21.6 BN IN NEW BORROWING IN 2023 FISCAL YR

Thailand government plans new borrowing of about 820 billion baht ($21.64 billion) in 2023 fiscal year starting Oct. 1, mainly to finance a budget deficit, the finance ministry said on Tuesday, as it tries to bolster economic recovery. The borrowing is part of a wider debt management plan in the fiscal year, which includes existing debt of 1.74 trillion baht ($45.92 billion) and 360 billion baht debt repayment, the ministry said in a statement. The overall debt plan, approved by the cabinet on Tuesday, also includes new borrowing of 233 billion baht by state enterprises and other government agencies, it said. The 2023 debt plan focuses on stimulating the economy through infrastructure investment and mitigating the impact of global oil price volatility and unrest between Russian and Ukraine, it said. The government has introduced various measures to help ease the impact of high oil prices and living costs as inflation hit a 14-year high. Last week, Finance Minister Arkhom Termpittayapaisith said he expected the economy to grow 3% to 3.5% this year.

Gameskraft case: Tax dept assures no coercive action

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has scheduled October 11 for the next hearing in the case of unicorn start-up Gameskraft plea.

It filed a plea on September 26 against the show cause notice issued by the Directorate General of GST Intelligence (DCGI) despite the High Court's stay on ₹21,000 crore tax notice issued to the firm.

Justice SR Krishna Kumar expressed his inability to take up the matter given the heavy docket burden, and said that he will list for hearing post the Dusshera holidays.

During the hearing, the gaming start-up asked the court for stay, which was objected by Additional Solicitor General (ASG) N Venkataraman, who was appearing for the GST authorities. When the court pointed out that Gameskraft's is apprehensive of coercive actions such as attachment by the GST department in the interim, the ASG said that such apprehension is ill-founded since 30 days have been given under the SCN for the company to respond to. The ASG also assured the court that no action will be taken without hearing the petitioners (Gameskraft).

On the basis of assurances given by the ASG, the Court adjourned the matter to be heard on 11th October 2022 for interim stay.

DishTV shares fall as stakeholders reject Board plans

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

DISH TV shares fell as much as 10% on Tuesday before closing the session about 7% lower at ₹15.89 apiece on the BSE, as shareholders of the broadcast satellite service provider rejected 4 of the 6 resolutions at the annual general meeting (AGM).

Over the last 3 days, Dish TV shares have lost 14% and when compared to its all-time high of ₹130.55 (in 2007), the scrip has lost nearly 9/10th of its value. Dish TV shareholders rejected the audited statements for the last 2 fiscals (FY21 and FY22), appointments of a new auditor and an independent director, the firm said in a regulatory filing on Monday. The strength of the Board has come down to 2 directors, below the minimum required strength of 3 directors as prescribed under the applicable provisions of the Companies Act, 2013. The appointment of new auditor SN Dhawan & Co. and Dish TV's non-executive independent director Rakesh Mohan were stalled at the AGM.

The development comes on the back of the ongoing dispute between Yes Bank, Dish TV's largest shareholder (with 25% stake), and the Goel family, promoters of Dish TV, over the reconstitution of the firm's Board among other things. Jawahar Lal Goel had stepped down as Chairman of Dish TV from the company's Board last week. The promoter family holds only 4.04% stake. "As the largest shareholder, it looks like Yes Bank has voted against some of the proposals," said Shriram Subramanian, MD of InGovern Research Services, a corporate governance advisory firm. "Now, the ball is in Yes Bank's court. It should take it up to the next stage of appointing new directors and provide direction to the company," He added. A senior analyst at a brokerage said mismanagement by the promoter family and poor business steps has let down shareholders, as stock prices have plunged from ₹100 plus level to ₹15 in last 5 years. "Dish TV needs a professional team and a big turnaround strategy as current challenges, coming from OTT players, are far more aggressive than ever before."

Free foodgrain scheme may be extended till Dec

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

THE government is likely to give extension to Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Anna Yojana (PMGKAY) by another three months, as per government sources.

The decision will be taken up in the cabinet meeting on Wednesday. The scheme, launched in March 2020, will expire this month. Under the scheme, 5 kgs of foodgrains are provided to the poor for free of cost.

The scheme was launched when Covid pandemic had hit the country in 2020, impacting many poor people.

The Centre extended the scheme many times and last time it was again extended for six months till September 30.

The extension of the scheme is significant on the backdrop of reports that the expenditure department of the finance ministry had raised concerns over the earlier extension of the scheme in March 2022.

The expenditure department of the finance ministry had reportedly advised the government against extending the scheme beyond March 2022 due to the fiscal situation of the country.

So far, more than 80 crore beneficiaries have been provided food grains under the scheme since it was launched.

The government has spent nearly ₹3.4 lakh crore on this scheme. The centre provides free food grains over and above the normal quota given under the National Food Security Act (NFSA) at a highly subsidised rate of ₹2-3 per kg.

The centre had first announced the PMGKAY scheme only for a period of three months in 2020 - April, May and June. Later, it extended the scheme from July to November 2020. Then in April 2021, it relaunched the scheme for the third time for a period of two months of May and June 2021. It was again extended for another five months from July to November 2021. Then, again for the fifth time it was extended from December 2021 to March 2022.

Bolt targets 1 lakh electric vehicle charging points by March 2023

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

BOLT, one of India's leading electric vehicle charging network, aims to have 100,000 charging points by the end of March 2023. Currently, the Bengaluru-based firm has deployed about 15,000 charging points.

"We have partnership with almost all the top 10 leading EV players- be it in the charging space or developing an operating system (OS) for them. Add to it, our products are affordable and very safe to use," said Mohit Yadav, cofounder, Bolt. Yadav added that they are open to collaborate to white label and retail its charging socket.

The company had last year partnered with Hero Electric to set up 50,000 charging points. It also has a partnership with BLive to set up EV charging points in over 100 locations.

Bolt on Tuesday launched the BOLT LITE socket, which is compatible with all portable chargers that come with any electric vehicle and works with the existing AC power supply at home. The product is available at an introductory price of ₹2,599.

Yadav said most 15 ampere sockets don't offer any direct safety or monitoring features and are not recommended for long term electric vehicle charging.

Bolt claims to offer dual-layer of protection with an in-built MCB that automatically switches off electrical circuits during any abnormal condition in the electrical network such as overload and short circuit conditions.

Deadline to implement EV battery norms extended

The Ministry of Road Transport and Highways has given additional time to EV manufacturers by extending EV battery testing standards till Dec 2022 and Mar 2023. The government had earlier decided to implement the standards from Oct 1, 2022. "The new regulations, if implemented w.e.f. Oct 1 would have brought the EV industry to a grinding halt," said Sohinder Gill, Director General, Society of Manufacturers of Electric Vehicles. ENS

India to become $30 tn economy by 2050: Adani

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Chennai

ADANI GROUP chairman Gautam Adani has estimated India's economy to grow 10 times in the next 28 years - from about $3 trillion at present to $30 trillion by 2050.

He also estimated India's stock market capitalisation to touch $45 trillion mark by 2050. "Following our independence, it took India almost 58 years to reach the 1-trillion- dollar GDP mark. It then took 12 years to achieve our 2nd trillion dollars – and thereafter, only 5 years to achieve the 3rd trillion dollars. This rate will further accelerate as the digital revolution kicks in and transforms every type of activity at a national scale," Adani, who recently became the world's second richest billionaire, said at Forbes Global CEO conference at Singapore.

Emphasising that India is in a bright spot even as major economies are struggling with recession fears, impending war, energy crisis among other things, Adani reinstated that his port-to-power conglomerate will invest over $100 billion of capital in the next decade, of which 70% has been earnmarked for the Energy Transition space. Adani said the Group has ambitions in the Data Centre and Digital Transformation space. "The Indian Data Center market is seeing explosive growth. This sector consumes more energy than any other industry in the world and therefore our move to build green data centers is a game changing differentiator," he added.

Govt makes IMEI number registration must for every handset

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

IN a bid to check black-marketing and phone thefts in the country, the Department of Telecommunication (DoT) on Tuesday has mandated mobile phone manufacturers to register IMEI number of every handset manufactured in India with the Indian Counterfeited Device Restriction (ICDR).

Mobile makers will have to register on the portal starting January 1, 2023. IMEI, which stands for International Mobile Equipment Identity, is a unique number to identify GSM, WCDMA, and iDEN mobile phones, as well as satellite phones. Every phone has an IMEI number, which makes it easier to track the phone in theft situations.

"The manufacturer shall register the international mobile equipment identity number of every mobile phone manufactured in India with the Indian Counterfeited Device Restriction portal (https://icdr.ceir.gov.in) of the Government of India in the Department of Telecommunications prior to the first sale of the mobile phone," reads the notification of the DoT.

The mobile makers will have to register with the international mobile equipment identity number of the mobile phones imported in India for sale, testing, research or any other purpose. For the mobile industry, black-marketing, fake IMEI numbers, phone thefts and phone tampering are some of the major concerns. With this move, the government believes it will check theft or black-marketing cases in the country. The government introduced the Indian Counterfeited Device Restriction in 2021 for issue of IMEI certificates for import of mobile devices through various customs ports.

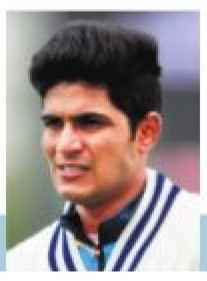
Gill slams maiden county hundred for Glamorgan



Young Indian batter Shubman Gill slammed his maiden hundred for Glamorgan against Sussex in their County Championship Division 2 match here on Tuesday. Batting on 91 overnight, Gill notched his eighth first-class century in 123 balls, displaying his wide array of elegant shots all around the County Ground in Hove.

Niemann cheated more, & more recently, than he has admitted: Carlsen

- Sept. 23 : FIDE prepared to do a thorough investigation
- Sept.27 : Carlsen breaks silence, publicly accuses Niemann of cheating recently

MAGNUS Carlsen finally broke his silence apropos the cheating allegations around US Grandmaster Hans Niemann. In a statement he posted on Twitter, the Norwegian accused Niemann, who had beaten the world Classical champion at a tournament in St. Louis earlier this month, of cheating 'more recently than he has publicly admitted'.

It's the first time the 31-year-old has addressed the issue in a straightforward manner after withdrawing from the Sinquefield Cup in St. Louis a day after Niemann, playing with black pieces, beat Carlsen. When Carlsen withdrew midway from the Sinquefield Cup, he posted a cryptic message on Twitter without clarifying why he was withdrawing. More recently, he also resigned while playing against the 19-year-old. At the Julius Baer Generation Cup last week — an online Rapid event — Carlsen protest resigned. These moves sent shockwaves across the chess world even as Niemann, who admitted to cheating on chess.com twice when he was 12 and 16, maintained his innocence.

On Tuesday, Carlsen posted: "At the 2022 Sinquefield Cup, I made the unprecedented professional decision to withdraw from the tournament after my round three game against Hans Niemann. A week later during the Champions Chess Tour, I resigned against Hans Niemann after playing one move.

Magnus Carlsen

"I know that my actions have frustrated many in the chess community. I'm frustrated. I want to play chess. I want to continue to play chess at the highest level in the best events... When Niemann was invited last minute to the 2022 Sinquefield Cup, I strongly considered withdrawing prior to the event... I believe that Niemann has cheated more — and more recently — than he has publicly admitted. His over the board progress has been unusual, and throughout our game in the Sinquefield Cup I had the impression that he wasn't tense or even fully concentrating on the game in critical positions, while outplaying me as black in a way I think only a handful of players can do. This game contributed to changing my perspective. We must do something about cheating, and for my part going forward, I don't want to play against people that have cheated repeatedly in the past because I don't know what they are capable of doing in the future..."

While Carlsen hasn't offered proof, the chess world threw their weight around the Norwegian after the statement landed (for their part, the World Chess Federation, have promised to get to the bottom of the issue, including a thorough investigation). Indian GM, RB Ramesh, who was the architect behind the India 'B' finishing with a bronze at the Olympiad in August, tweeted: "Immense respect for the world champion for taking a principled stand on an important issue, forcing the world to pay attention to it at a huge personal cost," he posted. "Ideally, the chess world and FIDE should have devised a good practical solution to the cheating problem years ago."

Niemann hasn't reacted following the allegations levelled against him. However, he did say he was open to doing everything in his power to prove his innocence after the St. Louis episode, including a willingness to 'play naked'.

Carlsen's moves on the chess board has won him a lot of admirers and it has also made him near-invincible. His latest move comes as a shock. One suspects there are still several chapters before this particular endgame.

THE FINAL REHEARSAL

With just three more T20Is left for India to figure out their World Cup plans, the series against South Africa becomes more significant. A look at some talking points from the first T20I in Thiruvananthapuram.

EYES ON ARSHDEEP

India's death-bowling hasn't been the greatest. So, that opens the door to Arshdeep Singh whose death overs numbers are very handy. If he can impress against the likes of David Miller, don't be surprised if he partners Jasprit Bumrah at the death in Australia.

CHANCE FOR PANT

As things stand, it looks increasingly difficult for Pant to get a look-in in the XI. With Hardik Pandya rested, Pant may get a chance to show what he can offer and if KL Rahul's struggles continue, could also get an opportunity to open.

JANSEN AGAINST BATTERS

The hosts do not have a good record against left-armers. So, this feels like a battle that could have repercussions not just in this series but at the World Cup. If India's struggles continue against Marco Jansen, expect other teams to note it down.

2 India have played two T20Is at this venue, winning one.

NOT AN OPEN AND SHUT CASE

Time for Rahul to consolidate his position at the top as India face South Africa in first T20I

GOMESH S @ Chennai

IT'S no secret India has three similar kinds of batters at the top in T20Is. During the 2021 T20 World Cup, when then India skipper Virat Kohli was asked if Ishan Kishan would replace Rohit Sharma in the playing XI, the answer was a counter-question and laugh. Earlier in July 2022, when the same question was posed to Rohit about Kohli, the former came out to his defence. In the Asia Cup, the stand-in skipper KL Rahul was asked about the possibility of Kohli opening the batting, and the 30-year-old replied, "Should I drop myself?" — which sent out a laughter across the press conference room.

Although a serious question about the top-three has always been countered with a comical response, it is obvious there is more to it. With the T20 World Cup getting closer, it is clear they would not hesitate to drop one of Kohli or Rahul if push comes to it. After all, Rohit did say that Kohli could be used as an opener if needed. With Kohli getting his consistency back — 352 runs in 8 innings with an average of 58.66 while striking at 141.93 — the focus shifts to Rahul as India are trying to figure out their combinations in the series against South Africa that begins on Wednesday in Thiruvananthapuram.

Make no mistake, there is no question on Rahul's ability. But it is the intent, Indian cricket's favourite word, that comes into question. Having come back from injury in the Asia Cup, the 30-year-old seemed to struggle a bit to buy into the batting approach India are trying to take, especially while batting first. It is a trend one could see in the last few seasons of IPL as well. When in full flow, when he plays his shots without worrying about getting out, Rahul is one of the most destructive T20 batters in the world. And what more, there is very little technical weakness for any opponent to exploit as well. Which is why, when he scores at a strike rate of mid 120-130s before exploding big whenever he gets to bat through the 20 overs, it could get a bit frustrating.

However, as he got a bit of game-time, Rahul did get better. He has had two half-centuries at a strike rate over 150. And moreover, he himself has admitted improving the strike rate is something he is working on. "The roles that have been defined to each player in the last 10-12 months have been very clear... Obviously, I am just working towards how I can better myself as an opening batter, and see how I can have the most impact for my team whenever I go out to play in the middle," he had said during the T20Is against Australia.

The series against South Africa will be crucial for Rahul and India as it would be their last bilateral assignment before the marquee event. Should the vice-captain's batting approach or poor form continue in this series and early on in the World Cup, he might find himself out of favour with too many batters fighting for a spot in the middle-order. And, Wednesday should give a glimpse of how he is going to react.

Clinical India 'A' complete series sweep

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

An air-borne Sanju Samson plays a cut shot at MA Chidambaram Stadium against New Zealand A on Tuesday. The right-hander made 54 | ASHWIN PRASATH

INDIA A kept up their impressive show by winning the last and final one-dayer against New Zealand at the MA Chidambaram Stadium. With this, the hosts completed a 3-0 series sweep.

On Tuesday, the Sanju Samson-led team rested Ruturaj Gaikwad, Rajat Patidar, Prithivi Shaw and Umran Malik. Abhimanyu Easwaran, KS Bharat, Kuldeep Sen and Rahul Tripathi came in place of them.

Chasing a stiff 285 for a win, the visitors started in earnest with Chad Bowes and Dane Cleaver negotiating the new ball pair of Shardul Thakur and Sen. Sensing that this partnership could prolong, Samson brought in Rahul Chahar. This did the trick as Chahar dismissed Bowes. Thereafter, Samson kept shuffling the bowling and wickets fell at regular intervals. Raj Bawa struck almost every time he bowled and picked up four wickets (4-11). Cleaver (83) waged a lone battle and played well thanks to his judicious shot-selection. When set for a ton, he gifted his wicket to Rishi Dhawan while attempting a slog.

Opting to bat, India posted a challenging total thanks to half-centuries by Samson (54), Tilak Varma (50) and Thakur (51). Varma was pleased to contribute to the victory and insists the exposure was a good learning experience for him. "We had a good series in red ball and white ball. But for me, every match is important. I do not differentiate between red ball or white ball. My aim is to win matches for the team. Unfortunately I missed a chance to score a 100 in this game. I won't repeat the same mistake and I wish to make big scores for the team,'' he said.

"I look at the standard of bowling, read the situation, analyse what the team requires and play accordingly. I have done the same thing in the IPL. So I just continue the same routines (mental preparation, practice, analysis) before and after the match in these (India A) games. I am maintaining the same routine and it's working for me,'' revealed the youngster from Hyderabad.

BRIEF SCORES: India A 284 in 49.3 ovs (Easwaran 39, Samson 54, Varma 50, Thakur 51, Rishi 34) bt New Zealand A 178 all out in 38.3 ovs (Cleaver 83, Bawa 4/11).

The quality of fast bowling by the Kiwi bowlers was good. They hit the deck in the right areas and there was good bounce and pace. Many of the youngsters in the India A side have not played such quality fast bowlers like Jacob Duffy often. "The quality of bowling was good. You can see it for yourself. They are using bouncers effectively with a hook trap. So it was interesting playing against them and a good opportunity for myself. Getting a chance to play for India A is a good thing, so I have utilised the opportunity and I am confident now,'' insisted Varma, adding that he is also working on his bowling to be an all-rounder.

Germany, England trade punches in six-goal thriller

AFP @ London

GARETH Southgate hopes England will feel the benefit of being put under intense pressure in recent days at the World Cup after fighting back from 2-0 down to salvage a 3-3 draw against Germany on Monday.

The Three Lions had already been relegated from the top tier of the Nations League and will head to Qatar on a six-game winless run.

The knives were being sharpened for Southgate after his faith in Harry Maguire backfired for two German goals early in the second half.

Centre-back Maguire has been publicly backed by the England boss despite being dropped at club level by Manchester United manager Erik ten Hag.

Ilkay Gundogan slotted home the opener from the penalty spot after Maguire gifted possession to Jamal Musiala and then chopped down the Bayern Munich midfielder.

MONDAY'S RESULTS

● A3: England 3 -3, Hungary 0-2 Italy 2. ● B3: Montenegro 0-2 Finland, Romania 4-1 Bosnia and Herzegovina. ● C4: North Macedonia 0-1 Bulgaria, Gibraltar 1-2 Georgia. ● D2: San Marino 0-4 Estonia.

Kai Havertz then curled brilliantly into the top corner after Maguire was dispossed in the German half.

England had failed to score from open play in any of their opening five games in Group A3. But two goals in three minutes transformed the atmosphere around Wembley and the scrutiny on Southgate's position heading to Qatar. Luke Shaw was also restored to the starting line-up despite his lack of game time at United and started the fightback by volleying in at the back post.

Germany's Kai Havertz scores his first goal against England at Wembley | AFP

Moments later, two of Southgate's substitutes combined to deadly effect as Bukayo Saka set up Mason Mount to curl home.

Harry Kane looked to have completed the turnaround from the penalty spot seven minutes from time after Nico Schlotterbeck's challenge on Jude Bellingham was punished following a VAR review.

Yet, there was more drama to come as Nick Pope spilled Serge Gnabry's shot and Havertz pounced on the rebound to snatch Germany a point.

Despite the disappointment of a late equaliser, there was relief for Southgate that England's attack finally came to life after accusations that his conservative tactics were to blame for a lack of goals.

"The whole experience has been what we needed," said Southgate, who had been booed by England fans after a 1-0 defeat to Italy in Milan on Friday. "You are going to have pressure in a World Cup. You can try to avoid pressure, but it's coming. It's better that we feel it and know how we deal with it. The players reacted in the right way — we showed character but a lot of quality."

Moonlighting, quiet quitting, productive paranoia... these terms have been doing the rounds in recent times, especially after a recent controversy when IT company Wipro fired 300 employees for moonlighting. Experts weigh in

SHINING LIGHT ON

ILLUSTRATION: SOUROV ROY

Usually, your second job, if it is allowed, cannot be with a competitor. If it's any other field, it can work. Regarding the controversy surrounding Wipro, I believe what they did was right

T V Mohandas Pai, IT expert

There can be two reasons why someone is moonlighting. One is to supplement their income as they may not be paid enough. Two, their primary job may not be very exciting and they want to do something more fulfilling

T N Hari, business author

TUNIR BISWAS

AFTER the information technology (IT) company Wipro fired 300 employees for moonlighting, a can of worms has been opened surrounding ethical behaviour in the corporate world. Moonlighting essentially means working another job aside from your primary occupation. In many cases of this act, the employee keeps the knowledge of the second job hidden from his parent company. Wipro chief Rishad Premji has also come under vitriol after he remarked moonlighting is cheating.

"There might be two or three reasons why an employee might be moonlighting. By moonlighting here, I mean someone doing a part-time gig on the side, in a field different from their current job. But back to what I was saying, there are frankly two reasons behind someone's choice to moonlight. One is to have a supplement in their income as they may not be paid sufficiently in their primary job. Two, their primary job may not be very exciting and they want to do something more fulfilling or satisfying for them," says TN Hari, co-founder of the Artha School of Entrepreneurship.

T V Mohandas Pai, current chairman of Manipal Global Education who was the former director of Infosys, feels the act of moonlighting can be considered cheating depending on the employment contract. "If the company contract prohibits an employee from having a second job, then the latter has to adhere to it. If the contract allows it, then the employee can work another job, but they have to do it in their own time and not use any of the company resources," says Pai.

However, not every company looks at moonlighting as strictly as Wipro does. Anand K, who works in Bengaluru as a cloud consultant for a startup, believes the work culture there is not very stringent. "I have been working on another venture, which is a passion project, for the past six months. I started this to influence more people into thinking about sales as a profession. My CEO has been very supportive of it and has helped me out with many difficulties I faced in the beginning," says Anand.

Regarding the ethics of it all, Anand mentions that all is fine as long as basic business ethics are maintained. "Bengaluru is a powerhouse of talent. The productivity of our talent will directly influence our economy. That said, I believe we should also be mindful of conflicts of interest, basic business ethics," adds Anand.

Ritesh Roy, who works in the city as an account coordinator at a US-based multimedia MNC, feels his company permits working another job as long as it's in a different field. "We are not allowed to work full-time or part-time anywhere, as the kind of business my company deals with is quite sensitive and confidential. We aren't even allowed to post anything about our projects or clients on social media. If we ever want to share something, we have to get approval from our HR team. Though I have known some of my colleagues volunteering and running businesses, and some even do freelance projects, nothing is related to the work we do at our organisation," shares Roy.

Pai reiterates that not being allowed to work a second job with a competing company is the ethical norm. "Usually, your second job, if it is allowed, cannot be with a competitor. If it's any other field, it can work. Regarding the controversy surrounding Wipro, I believe what they did was right," says Pai.

Several supermodels, including Bella Hadid and Alexa Demie, have tried siren eyes, a look that has taken the internet by storm

MONIKA MONALISA

Making the eyes speak

IF you love makeup, then there is no way you would have missed the most buzzing trend – siren eyes. Similar to smoky eyes, siren eyes are slightly more dramatic, darker around the rims, and flicked upwards at the outer corners for a more narrow, cat-eye shape.

Celebrities like Bella Hadid and Alexa Demie have been wearing this look for years. But what makes it more popular than a typical winged liner on a smokey eye? Model Rida Tharana says she started doing it in college because she considers herself good with eyeliners. "I like eyeliners which are usually sharp. These eyes are called siren eyes because you are basically pulling them upward giving a cat-eye look and drawing an inner corner. So your eyes don't look snatched. Even if there is a slight mistake while applying it, it doesn't look bad. It looks great on those with small eyes and suits those with brown skin," she explains, adding that since the look has gone viral, she tries it only occasionally.

While the look gives a sultry and seductive feel to it, it surely has a vibe of its own. However, city-based makeup artist Kirsten Lisa Phanbuh says anyone can carry off the look. "Even on a regular basis I try this look. I like it because it accentuates my eyes. Rather than using a thick eyeliner, I find that it suits my eyes and gives that nice elongated look," says Phanbuh, adding, "It's not the eye makeup, it also depends on the way you contour and highlight around your temples. That plays a major role."

To master that look, makeup artist Rashida Pavthiwala says a good contour is key. "Professionally, it's called foxy eyes. Contour is something that gives you a snatched effect. So you contour in such a way that your eyes get a lift. The whole snatched look is done in a brown colour which is 2-3 shades darker than the skin. It's like there but no there," says Pavthiwala, adding that the look might not be best suited for bigger eyes.

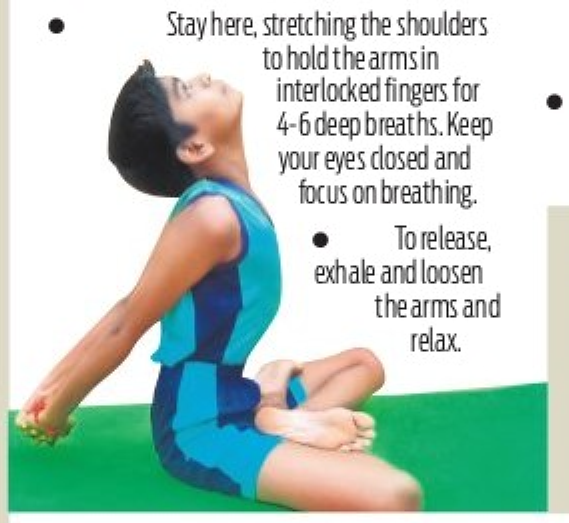
BADDHA HASTA PADMASANA

(HANDS BOUND LOTUS POSE)

It is a beginner level stretch to help develop the mobility of the shoulders into arm extension. Stretching the shoulders can feel good, especially for working professionals who spend long hours over a computer or reading or playing games.

STEPS

- Sit with legs stretched out in front while keeping the spine erect.
- Bend your right knee and place it on the left thigh. Make sure that the sole of the feet points upward and the heel is close to the abdomen.
- Bend your left knee and place it on the right thigh. Make sure that the sole of the feet points upward and the heel is close to the abdomen.
- Now, roll your shoulders back and take the arms at your back as you inhale.
- Exhale, stretch your fingers, open your palms, and interlock the fingers behind your back.
- Keep your chest up and open. Pull your shoulder blades down and back.
- While you are comfortable here, move your arms away from the body.
- Then, stretch your neck up, find your gaze towards the ceiling as you inhale.
- Stay here, stretching the shoulders to hold the arms in interlocked fingers for 4-6 deep breaths. Keep your eyes closed and focus on breathing.
- To release, exhale and loosen the arms and relax.



BENEFITS

- Stretches shoulders, biceps-triceps, arms, wrists, neck, and pectoralis muscle.
- Lengthens the spine, and strengthens the upper back supporting muscles.
- Develops shoulder mobility.
- Improves breathing by lifting the ribs and creating more space for lungs to expand.
- Helps keep awareness and focus.
- Strengthens the surrounding muscles to enhance the appearance of the chest.
- Opens heart and shoulder and counteracts the slouched and hunched posture.
- Cervical issues with chronic neck and shoulder pain will find a great relief.
- Can be practised sitting on a chair, standing or even travelling.
- Great warm-up for swimmers, tennis or badminton players, javelin players, cricketers, labourers, artists, and homemakers.
- Range of motion to the arms to build strength and support in rotator cuff muscles.

LIMITATIONS

People with shoulder, wrists, or elbow, knee, hip or ankle injuries or surgeries should avoid this.

Instability due to rotator cuff tears, tendonitis, arthritis, or feel any pain or in the shoulders, avoid shoulder stretch.

Tracing traditional kitchens together

SAHANA IYER

THEY say no meal satiates you as well as a home-cooked delicacy. However, one can only assume this amplifies when some 100 homes open up their kitchens to you. Bringing together their community to serve authentic recipes from the southern states of Karnataka, Telangana/Andhra Pradesh, Tamil Nadu and Kerala is Friends of DakshinaChitra (FOD) with their cookbook Dakshin Kitchens, launched recently.

Culinary cooperation

The idea began as a fundraising proposition by Maureen Hudson-Murari four years ago. "The project started in 2018-19. At the time, we were always talking about fundraising and how to support DakshinaChitra. We have 271 members and we were looking at how we could get everybody to participate. The idea of a cookbook struck, where we could ask members to contribute recipes," she explained.

And so, from tiffins and snacks to vegetarian/non-vegetarian curries, sweets and pickles came together a collection that offers 156 options for those who wish to explore traditional South Indian meals. You can try hot chilli Andhra fish curry, sweet and sour pineapple tamarind curry, lentil and jaggery sweets, brinjal and mango pickle, coconut-filled plantain fritters and much more.

Once the recipes began pouring in, there was a need to standardise the process and that is where Sabita Radhakrishna stepped in, along with other members who eased the coordination.

"Since I have had experience with writing books, people turned to me for guidance. Nearly all members of the group sent in traditional recipes based on the state and culture. There are also some other recipes we got from other people (specialists) to fill in spaces. For example, I wanted to add recipes from Kodagu but no one in the FOD could help with that so I brought in someone from my contacts," she said, adding "Thirupurasundari helped with coordinating, calling up members, keeping track of the recipes, and my granddaughter Tishara did the line drawings. Rani did the basic editing; detangled and refined the writing. Deepa, who is a tech-savvy person, did the formatting. We did the design together. But for her, we wouldn't have finished so soon."

Foods in the book are divided by state and are segregated further into pickles, meals, snacks and more. And, while traditional, some also managed to bring in an element of intrigue. "We received a recipe for pumpkin adai, which I had never heard of. There were also betel leaf pakodas or fritters and another recipe created with nungus (ice apple) which is quite unusual. There were some interesting submissions," Sabita noted.

Tradition en vogue

While fusion and intermingling of cultures continue in a globalised world, there is also a rising parallel of going back to one's roots. We see the latter in the comeback of cast iron skillets and indigenous grains as well as the social media documentation of traditional recipes. The full circle moment is observed by Sabita as well. "You take textile, craft, or food. People were so fond of fancy clothes and western style. It's gone full circle now, where people don't want to eat out of crockery, they want to eat out of vengalam because they say it's good. I'd like for people who take the book home to understand that these things are part of our heritage and define who we are. It is okay to have fusion and borrow but ultimately, you eat what you are used to eating. Sometimes, you may not know how to cook it and this will serve as a guide to help you. You have choices and they are all worth trying. You can always innovate, tweak it and make your recipe. The idea is to present what is there traditionally. And I trust the people who contributed for Dakshin Kitchens," she said.

Overcoming obstacles

Despite having sources and strength in unity, the project was not devoid of hurdles as the group battled working through the pandemic. Homebound and battling a global crisis brought issues with coordinating as well as motivation. And there was also the matter of finances.

"While I am quite proud of what we have done, I can't say I did much for the practical. When it came to printing, we had to do so through sponsors. Unfortunately, sponsorship was not forthcoming. I kept looking for cooking programmes and such but the middle of a pandemic wasn't the best time to find sponsorships," said Maureen. That being said, she stands behind the final product.

"I think it's a clean-looking book, the print on the pages is very sharp and clear and it's not cluttered at all. If I was to be browsing in a shop, I would think it makes for an attractive gift idea — although I don't do much cooking myself," she added. With the holiday season around the corner, perhaps you know someone who would like to give it a try as well.

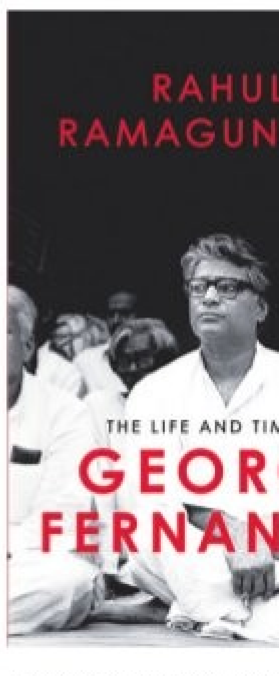
JANATA DAYS



IN the fifth general elections held in March 1977, George registered an impressive victory. It was when the Emergency was still in force and he in jail; it was an election he had at first refused to participate in and called for his party to boycott as well. While he was exercised over it, it was Madhu Limaye who presented him with a fait accompli. In a five-short-sentence letter, endorsed as well by JP, Madhu Limaye urged him to contest from Muzaffarpur 'in the interest of party unity and for political considerations'. Seconding his proposal were the two others who though they could have been candidates themselves wouldn't fight because they wanted him to win. The Bihar strongman Karpoori Thakur, too, endearingly scribbled, 'If you don't [fight] there will not be any relationship left between us.' Armed with such goodwill, urging him to take the plunge, Madhu Limaye predicted, 'You will win with a thumping majority'. Leila Fernandes, who was unsure if he should contest at all, was unhappy at the turn of events. 'I read your long statement urging a boycott of elections', she wrote from Charlottesville, 'and learnt later that you are contesting.' More than surprise, her words were dipped in sarcasm that he chose to ignore. She was uncertain about the outcome as well. 'Well, I certainly shall be keeping my fingers crossed that your friends' campaign on your behalf will get you elected.'

He was elected, his nearest Congress rival trounced by a margin of more than three lakh votes. Although the newly formed Janata Party swept the north Indian scene, the manner of his victory in a constituency he had never been to, voted by a people who had never heard him speak, established his invulnerable charisma. He was a hero, an anti-authoritarian fighter who had put at stake his everything in the fight to restore democracy. Contesting from inside jail, refused parole, even his request for transfer to a jail in the constituency denied, it was indeed a victory sweeter and more emphatic than his first-ever win in 1967. But from inside the prison, it had seemed the odds were stacked against him. However courageous his mien, he feared as well. In an imploring letter to a socialist comrade in Bihar, he wrote of his wife and toddler son who were in exile and declared: 'For me, this election is the only way to save myself from a hangman's noose.' His was truly a people's campaign, run on an inexhaustible enthusiasm and transparent sincerity. Later, he would acknowledge it as a 'peaceful and democratic revolution' brought about by the common man. Even though young men sat at the town square with shoeshine boxes and makeshift tea stalls, funds were not much required. His constituents were 'overwhelmingly proud for having a leader of your stature to guide us'. Many worked voluntarily for his election campaign. To prove that they had a role in his victory by working as agents of his, they sent him agent passes issued by the presiding officers at polling booths.

From early on it was clear that the Janata Party would never become a cohesive unit. Although its coming into being had set forth great enthusiasm and generated terrific hope, its formation was essentially a reaction to the Emergency. Having come together under exigent circumstances, it was at best a simmering cauldron, of all but one steel-clad Congress breakaways, distinguished not by what had brought about their respective splits but by the timing of it. They were united in their common antipathy to Indira Gandhi's rising power.

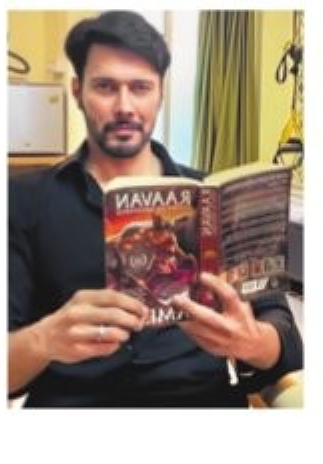
Rajneesh Duggal read books to play his part in 'Sanjog'



TV and film actor Rajneesh Duggal said that he is spending time reading books to get into the skin of his character in the daily show Sanjog featuring Kamya Panjabi and Shefali Sharma in lead roles. "When I was offered Sanjog, I decided to dwell deep into understanding the character of Rajeev as he is very different from what I am. While some actors prefer watching movies and videos to get into their character and learn something new, I started reading books like The Fountainhead by Ayn Rand and Raavan: Enemy of Aryavarta by Amish Tripathi."

The 42-year old actor entered Bollywood with 1920 and he was the winner of season 5 of Khatron Ke Khiladi. Rajniesh mentioned how he took inspiration from different characters in the book to portray his role on screen. "In The Fountainhead, the lead character is very stubborn, strong-headed and goes against the norms, which helps me to portray my character and inculcate the nuances from him. On the other hand, some of the characters of the book Raavan: Enemy of Aryavarta are very interesting and they help me to portray the grey shade of my character," he added. — IANS

I'm a Kannadiga, and happy to debut in Sandalwood: Zaid Khan

CE FEATURES

ZAID Khan's launch pad, Banaras directed by Jayathirtha Jayanna is all geared for a theatrical release on November 4, and their makers released the film's trailer on Monday, at the grand event, which was graced by Crazy Star Ravichandran, and Bollywood actor and producer, Arbaaz Khan with the cast of the film, including Achyuth Kumar, Sujay Shastry and crew in presence.

The first film of Zaid Khan produced by Tilakraj Ballal will be dubbed and released in multiple languages. Banaras was billed as a love story so far, but the team surprised everyone with the trailer by revealing that it is also a time-travel film featuring Zaid Khan as an astronaut. The romantic drama is also a science fictional story with a time-loop concept. "Time travel is less explored in Indian cinema, and I'm glad to have attempted it in Banaras," mentioned Jayathirtha, who also explained that the title matches the story as it is shot in the backdrop of Kashi and has a philosophical and divine touch. "We have shot 90% of the film in Banaras. The city is the soul of our script."

Producer Tilak shared that Banaras is an out-of-the-box film and its content has a universal appeal.

Zaid Khan stated that he was offered projects in Bollywood, but he preferred to start his career with a Kannada film. "I'm a Kannadiga, and my dream was to debut in Sandalwood and continue to work in this industry."

Sonal Monteiro, who was happy to star alongside Zaid Khan said, he is one of the best co-stars she has worked with, and Banaras will be her first Pan-India project.

Advaitha Gurumurthy has handled the cinematography, and Ajaneesh B Loknath has scored the music for Banaras.

Aditi Prabhudeva

'TOTAPURI IS A SERIOUS TOPIC, SENSITIVELY THREADED WITH ELEMENTS OF COMEDY AND LOVE'

...says Aditi Prabhudeva in conversation with CE, where she discusses her upcoming film, why Vijay Prasad is an unconventional director, and about sharing screen space with Jaggesh

A SHARADHAA

ADITI Prabhudeva is one of the most in-demand actors, who is busy with back-to-back projects. However, the actor was offered Totapuri right after her silver screen debut with Suni's Bazaar. "While making a transition from small screen to films, I was looking to do unconventional roles, and after a long wait, I was offered a good character in Vijaya Prasad directorial," says Aditi, who is looking forward to watching herself on the silver screen, this Friday. "The director had called me for an audition. He did not narrate the story, nor gave a brief about my role. He just wanted me to give a test shoot and check whether I could fit in the character. Fortunately, I got selected and only then I was narrated the story, and my character. He then gave me a week to get a hangover of playing the role of a Muslim girl, and he picked up the apt gestures, that were carried through the film. " she says.

Aditi calls Totapuri a peculiar subject. "Irrespective of which religion we belong, and customs, we follow and practise, we are just human and the humanity that lies within unites us. The good and bad we do is not decided based on religion; peaceful coexistence is above everything.

Though this is a serious topic, it is sensitively threaded with elements of comedy and love, making it a commercial entertainer, underlined with a strong message."

Vijaya Prasad, who is a good story writer, has got the best out of his cast. "Actors Jaggesh, Suman Ranganath, Veena Sunder, Dattana can balance between humour and serious scenes, and they are put together for a meaningful film," she says. What does the title mean to her? "In my opinion, Totapuri is a favourite fruit, which has a mix of sweet, sour and bitter tastes. It is mixed with salt and spice before consumption, that's the essence of Vijaya Prasad's story. Jaggesh plays the lead and is a tailor, who is famous for totapuri design. I play a Muslim girl working in a bank, who lives with a big family, runs the mango business and specialised in Totapuri. It is a catchy title that also adds value to the film," she says.

She calls Vijaya Prasad an amazing soul, who gives equal treatment to actors and junior artists. One of the very few directors, who has an understanding of the local language. Though he comes across as a filmmaker with a good sense of humour, especially with the dialogues, and the characterisation, he brings in. But on the sets, he is very serious, very mature. His films promise quality entertainment, and a social message," she says.

Aditi on sharing screen space opposite Jaggesh.

"The director is known for bringing in unconventional combinations, and unique subjects. Working with a senior actor like Jaggesh is a valuable addition to my career," she signs off.

AJAY RAO TO HEADLINE CUTTING SHOP DIRECTOR PAVAN BHAT'S NEXT

CEFEATURES

Ajay Rao collaborated with director Pavan Bhat for a realistic script. The actor, who will be headlining the project, will also be bankrolling the film, under his banner, Shree Krishna Arts and Creations. Ajay's maiden production under the banner was Krishna Leela, and this will be his second venture.

The director, who was critically acclaimed for his debut, Cutting Shop, will now be joining hands with the actor, for his second outing. Ajay Rao, who was last seen in Shokiwala, waited for a good script until he got an offer from Pavan.

Though the film is in the pre-production stage, the director has shot the title teaser and the project is likely to go on floors in the next couple of months. More details about the project will be revealed post the official launch.

The actor will also be producing the film under his home banner

FILMMAKER Ram Prasad recently celebrated the success of his maiden venture Lanke, which starred Yogi, Kavya Shetty, Krishi Thapanda, and Suchendra. The Hindi version of the action commercial drama is also on the way. The director-producer is now getting ready for his next. "This is going to be a psychological thriller, and the pre-production work is in progress. The film will have two female leads, and we have cast Ester Noronha and Pooja Ramachandra. Meanwhile, the director is tightlipped about the hero and wants to reveal details along with the first look and title.

Music director Karthik Sharma, and editor Harish Komme, who have previously worked with Ram Prasad in Lanke will be collaborating with him on this project too.

Kevin Feige: It Was Too Soon to Recast T'Challa in Black Panther: Wakanda Forever

CE FEATURES

CHADWICK Boseman was cast as T'Challa in the Marvel Cinematic Universe in Captain America: Civil War. He went on to reprise his role in Black Panther, Avengers: Infinity War and Avengers: Endgame. Sadly, after a four-year battle with colon cancer, Boseman passed in August 2020.

In the wake of his passing, there have been varying opinions on the recasting of the character as the sequel, Black Panther: Wakanda Forever is heading towards a release. Marvel Studios, however, decided against a recast. While speaking to Empire Magazine recently, Marvel CEO Kevin Feige spoke about the studio's decision not to recast the iconic character explaining that it felt "too soon" to do so.

Saif Ali Khan calls himself 'left wing', then says 'shouldn't say such things anymore today'

CE FEATURES

SAIF Ali Khan recently said that he is "left wing" and a "liberal" but followed it up by adding that he knows he "shouldn't say such things anymore today".

While promoting his upcoming film Vikram Vedha, the actor in an interview with Biz Asia talked about how he doesn't agree with the thoughts and principles of his character in the film. Saif plays an encounter specialist Vikram while Hrithik Roshan is Vedha, a gangster.

"When the mafia problem was getting out of control, there was this urban legend that we won't show whether the 'criminal' was shot genuinely trying to escape or executed, and later on, do the paperwork to show that he was trying to escape and we had to shoot him," he said.

"That's called an 'encounter', a 'fake encounter'. It's kind of a horrific judicial... I'm sure it's completely illegal. But it's cinematically quite disturbing as well, and that's kind of what my character does. But he's convinced he's a good guy, because (he thinks) it's required."

He added: "I'm much more... probably a bit left-wing, I suppose... I don't know, I probably shouldn't say these things anymore today."

The actor also called himself a "liberal".

"But yes, I'm really liberal and easygoing, and I think everyone is entitled to a fair trial before judgment. I'm certainly not for executing suspected criminals, which my character seems to love to do," Saif said.
